SON OF DUCE
TO TAKE JOB
IN ARGENTINAMUSSOLINI GIVES
AP MAN FIRST
INTERVIEW

Argentine newspapers have recently carried rumors that Vittorio Mussolini has been living in Argentina for some time. This has been confirmed by Associated Press Correspondent Joseph F. McEvoy who presents herewith the first interview with the son of the late Italian duce. Mussolini gave the interview with the specific restriction that it should not be used within Argentina.

BY JOSEPH F. McEVY

Buenos Aires, April 30 (P)—Vittorio Mussolini said today that he arrived in Argentina "clandestinely" a month ago and expressed the hope he would be permitted to remain in this South American country and bring his family from Italy so he can live and work "in peace."

The son of the late Benito Mussolini is in Argentina illegally, but both he and his attorney, Victor Paulucci Cornejo, were optimistic that Vittorio's "situation" will be legalized within a week to permit him to take a job which was offered him.

In an exclusive interview Vittorio declined to say how he made the trip from his homeland or the manner in which he entered Argentina but indicated he might explain later if his effort to remain in Argentina were successful. He said only that he left Italy two months ago.

Wanted in Italy
"There are no charges of war criminal against me as far as the Allied governments are concerned," he said, adding: "I am certain also that the present government of Italy does not want me." (Several days ago Luigi Ferrari, chief of the Italian federal police, said that Vittorio, last seen in Milan shortly before that city was liberated in April, 1945, was wanted in Italy for collaboration with the Germans.)

Before the war Vittorio was an aviator and race car enthusiast. At 17 he became the youngest licensed pilot in Italy. He served as a pilot during the Italian-Ethiopian war and also flew in Libya and in raids on Greece during the second world war. In 1937 he visited the United States in connection with a motion picture venture.

The tall, husky 31-year-old son of the former Italian duce said he chose Argentina as a place where he hoped to settle for the rest of his life because his father-in-law, Jose Buvioli, lives in Buenos Aires. Young Mussolini's wife, Orsola, was born in Buenos Aires. He said she now was living in Milan with their two children, Guido and Adria. He added that his mother was living on Ischia Island off Naples.

Declining to answer any political questions, Vittorio said: "I never had much interest in politics. I have less now, and you can be sure I never have any intention of mixing in Argentine politics. I am just another Italian immigrant."

Big Bombers
To Be Based
Up In Maine

BY ELTON C. FAY

Washington, April 30 (P)—The United States will build a base for its heaviest and longest range bombers in Aroostook county, Maine, the corner of the nation closest to troubled Europe.

This important development in the nation's strategic planning was disclosed today in a routine announcement by the Army Air Forces that construction of the new base, four miles from the Canadian border, will start about June 15. It probably will be completed in the fall of 1948, at a cost estimated between $13,000,000 and $14,000,000.

The new field is about 30 miles northeast of the AFB base at Presque Isle, Me., starting point for transatlantic flights during the war.

When asked why a new base was being constructed instead of improving one of the existing bases in the area, an AFB official said that "the criteria for very heavy bombardment bases has increased so much that no field in the area could be converted as quickly or cheaply as can be done by constructing a new base."

While the official did not elaborate on this reference, his reference to the increased requirements for a base suggested that the runways would be capable of handling the huge B-36s, which will be able to carry 36 tons of bombs. This airplane, far heavier than the wartime B-29, is understood to be too heavy for most existing runways.

ALEMAN LASHES
AT AGGRESSORSMexican President Will Give Address Today
In Congress

Washington, April 30 (P)—Mexico's visiting President Aleman today reverently saluted the unknown war dead of the United States, and later assailed aggression anywhere in the world as a peril to the peace of the Americas. The Mexican executive drove from the White House to the tomb of the unknown soldier, in Arlington National cemetery. There he placed a wreath of red roses, gardenias and lilies on the tomb. A 21-gun salute boomed out as he entered the cemetery.

Two hours later, he spoke before the governing board of the Pan American Union, a few blocks from the White House, and observed that the American republics "do not wish to have our peace at the mercy of aggressors."

President Aleman smilingly saw President Truman off from the White House portico and later told reporters: "I think he's having a nice time. He's a grand guy."

Tonight the large Mexican embassy was prepared for a state dinner to be given by President Aleman in honor of President Truman and Mrs. Truman.

Before leaving tomorrow at midnight for New York City on the second part of his nine days' visit to this country, President Aleman will address a joint session of Congress at 11:30 a. m. (Central Standard Time).

Increase In Price
Of Eggs Predicted;
Supplies Shrinking

Washington, April 30 (P)—The agriculture department predicted today that prices of eggs will increase and supplies decrease during the last half of this year.

It estimated supplies will be 10 per cent smaller than in the last half of 1946. Reflecting normal decline, egg prices usually increase about 35 per cent the last six months in the year. The department said this year the increase may be less than usual.

Farmers are now receiving the highest prices of eggs for this season of the year since 1920. The department also forecast a "moderate" decline in poultry prices but a continuation of current prices for turkeys during the last half of the year. During this period, supplies of chickens are expected to be about 10 per cent smaller than a year ago, while turkey supplies may be 15 per cent smaller.

License Restored
To Mrs. Roosevelt

Hyde Park, N. Y., April 30 (P)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt's license to drive was reinstated today, her secretary said, after a three-and-one-half-month suspension that resulted from her part in an automobile accident.

Bill To Take Liquor
Business From State
Attacked At Lansing

Lansing, April 30 (P)—Temperance advocates and liquor licensees zeroed in on the same target today, the Tripp bill which proposes to "take the state out of the liquor business."

Smarting under the attacks before the House liquor committee, the bill's sponsor, Senator Harold D. Tripp, Allegan Republican, dramatically tore up his SDD license. "That's how much my liquor business means to me," he asserted.

Tripp, who operates a drug store where liquor has been sold several years, contended his measure would not raise the liquor price, as his opponents had contended, and added that if the mandatory 15 per cent profit were moved, lower prices would be "certainly" possible.

He argued that reduction of liquor commission personnel alone would "practically assure the state of retaining its present level of revenue from the liquor business."

John Bodenstab of Detroit, representing the Royal Ark society, said he believed the bill would be contrary to the constitutional amendment setting up the liquor control commission and promised that his organization would fight the measure in court, if it passed.

Fred Kamdt, Detroit, representing the State Licensees' advisory council, and James Dotsch, Lansing, representing the Michigan Table Top Licensees Congress, declared liquor distribution in hands of private wholesalers would result in corruption and "under-the-counter payments."

Dotsch, however, said his organization would like to see the state "get out of the retail liquor business."

Rev. D. Stanley Coors, Lansing pastor and Michigan Temperance Foundation member, and Rev. E. C. Prettyman, Foundation superintendent, said they opposed the state in the liquor business but they opposed even more the Tripp bill.

Said Rev. Coors: "Removing the liquor commission's enforcing power would lead to much corruption and increased liquor sales."

Passed by the Senate three weeks ago, the bill would strip the commission of all enforcing power, forbid it to act as a liquor wholesaler and abolish state liquor stores.

The commission would retain only its functions as a hearing board for liquor law violations and enforcement would be turned over to the state police.

EIGHT TRAPPED
BY MINE BLAST

Terre Haute, Ind., April 30 (P)—Five bodies were found tonight in an explosion-racked shaft of the Spring Hill mine, and rescue squads expected to find the three other trapped miners momentarily.

The two bodies brought to the surface were identified as Barney Riggs and Desire Lete, both 67, and both of Terre Haute.

The others had not been identified. Harry Kerns, owner of the small truck mine four miles south of here, said three men who escaped unhurt from the bottom of the mine reported that the explosion occurred during blasting for a new air shaft at a depth of 80 feet.

He said the trapped men were about 1,000 to 2,000 feet away from the shaft.

Evan Evans, superintendent of the state mine rescue station in West Terre Haute, said rescue work tonight, three hours after the blast, was being hampered by smoke as a fire apparently continued in the shaft.

Evans said other delays have occurred because of lack of sufficient brattices and curtains for protection of the rescue route. Hundreds of miners from nearby shafts and wives of the trapped men crowded around the tipple tonight.

BELL SYSTEM
WAGE OFFERS
ARE REJECTEDNEGOTIATIONS HIT
SNAG AGAIN IN WASHINGTON

Detroit, April 30 (P)—Leaders of Michigan's striking telephone workers today turned down an offer of $2 to $4 weekly wage increases from the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. as insufficient.

The company proposal was for increases "geared to local wage conditions," and brought a statement from the union that "as other industries have been granted across the board wage increases, we feel we are entitled to similar consideration."

The union's rejection followed a day-long negotiating session with company officials and Federal conciliators, the first joint parleys, at which the issues were discussed since the 24-day strike began.

Following the union rejection of the company offer, both sides conferred again but soon announced a recess. E. M. Sconyers, U. S. conciliator, said the parties would meet at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow. He said there was no indication of agreement.

First Since Walkout
The company offer also was the first it had made since the walk-out started April 7 over union demands for a $12 weekly boost, which was later scaled down to $6, for 18,000 members.

Walter Schaar, president of the Michigan Telephone Employees Federation, said the wage increases offered by the company "did not take into consideration the fact the telephone workers are skilled craftsmen and entitled to as good a wage as any other wage earner."

He added that under the company plan, present differentials between various cities in the state would be increased "an average of from $18 difference to $20."

Mrs. Frances Smith, head of operators union, who with Schaar headed the MTFW delegation at today's negotiations, declared the offer had been turned down "on the basis that all members of the various telephone unions are faced with higher living costs."

"We don't agree," she said. "That the company proposal even lives up to its own theory of equal wages with other workers in the community."

WORKERS WON'T RETURN

Washington, April 30 (P)—The country-wide telephone strike picture grew even dimmer tonight with refusal of at least part of the members of a New York union to go back to work under an announced settlement, and a recess in a key part of negotiations here.

An announcement of progress had been hoped for in the Washington talks affecting the nation's long distance workers, but these negotiations were silently recessed until 4 p. m. EST, tomorrow.

Strike settlements earlier had been announced covering 43,000 workers—37,000 in New York and 6,000 in Pennsylvania.

In New York, members of one union, the Traffic Employees association, decided in a series of meetings not to go to work tomorrow past pickets of the National Federation of Telephone Workers. The federation, embracing 39 unions on strike, is the mainstay of the 24-day nation-wide tieup.

Joseph A. Beirne, NFWW president, said in a statement that the picket lines of its affiliated unions will be continued even in New York City and Pennsylvania and "we expect these lines to be respected."

Vote On Palestine
Goes Against Arabs
In United Nations

New York, April 30 (P)—The Arab countries were beaten late tonight in their first attempt to throw the issue of Palestine independence before the special session of the United Nations Assembly.

By a vote of eight to one, with five abstentions, the assembly's steering committee decided against the Arabs, climaxing ten hours of wrangling and parliamentary confusion.

The 14-nation steering committee thus rejected identical requests from Egypt, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Syria and Lebanon for the assembly to debate at this session the question of cancelling the British mandate over Palestine and freedom for the Holy Land.

Egypt fought a lone battle on the committee to avert a vote. Egypt then cast the only vote for the Arab proposals.

Tornado Deaths
9 In Arkansas,
13 In Missouri

Rogers, Ark., April 30 (P)—The death toll rose to nine today with an estimated 25 others injured seriously in a tornado which lashed two sparsely settled northwest Arkansas communities late last night.

Twisters also struck in Missouri and Iowa yesterday, killing 13 persons, injuring some 45 others and nearly demolishing the town of Worth, Mo., and causing extensive property damage but no deaths. At Clio, Ia. several persons were hurt and buildings destroyed by wind in the Salem, Mo., vicinity.

One man was killed as a storm hit the Winkler and Seaton communities in Missouri. Some property damage was caused but no one was hurt north of Eureka Springs, Ark.

The Arkansas twister, the second to hit the state this year, virtually wiped out the business district of Bright Water, population 100, six miles north of Rogers, killing four persons there. Four other lost their lives as the storm whipped through a farm section about eight miles east of Garfield, some 16 miles northeast of Bright Water.

The Red Cross, which was aiding the Rogers National Guard unit and volunteer workers in securing the ruins of the two communities for possible other victims, said approximately 25 persons were injured and 40 to 50 homes were destroyed.

COLONEL PAYS
IN GEM THEFTPrison Term Of 15 Years
Given In $1,500,000
Crown Jewel Case

Frankfurt, Germany, April 30. (P)—Col. Jack W. Durant was sentenced to 15 years at hard labor and excluded from the service today as the U. S. Army wound up its prosecution of "principals" in the fantastic theft of the $1,500,000 Hesse crown jewels.

Army sources predicted "further prosecutions" might be initiated soon in United States civil courts against other persons connected with the looting.

The prosecution asserted repeatedly at Durant's stormy, five-month trial on both sides of the Atlantic that other American officers, some ranking as high as generals, were implicated in removing various articles from Kronberg castle.

Durant's wife is serving a five-year term for the looting of the buried gems.

The slim, 37-year-old Air Force officer of Washington, D. C., and Chicago, was found guilty of eight counts, including theft, smuggling and signing another officer's name in an attempt to expedite his own discharge from the Army.

Specifically, he was convicted of stealing $10,000 worth of the glittering horde, much of which was on display here as evidence. The prosecution has valued the gems at $1,500,000.

BUYING SPURRED
BY PRICE CUTSStores In Pennsylvania
Town Boom Business
In One-Day Sale

Pottstown, Pa., April 30 (P)—Price slashes ranging from 10 to 50 per cent today ended a spring-time buying slump in this eastern Pennsylvania town of 20,000 with many merchants reporting the "best business" since the war's end.

Virtually all stores cooperated in the community profit sharing plan to boost customer sales and a chamber of commerce spokesman flatly called the one-day sale "an out-and-out attempt to clean out our merchandise so we can plan for a permanent reduction in the next few months."

Jack Hoffman, operator of the town's largest (New York) department store, told a reporter "today was the biggest one-day sale in the 26-year-history of my establishment."

Customers crowded into the store to take advantage of a flat 10 per cent reduction on all items—plus cuts up to 50 per cent on others.

At least two grocery stores gave a 10 per cent discount on all purchases above $1 and their owner, George Karpinski, said he'd keep the cut in effect "for at least a week to see how it works out."

Albert W. Gould, the chamber's publicity head and operator of a clothing store, said customer reaction to the plan was "tremendous."

"We've taken in more in a three-hour period today," Gould said, "than we normally take in on a full day Saturday, with the exception of those Saturdays before Christmas and Easter."

Even drug stores cut prices, reducing 25-cent ice cream sodas to 15 cents.

TRUCKING RESTRICTED

Lansing, April 30 (P)—The State Highway department today restored normal truck loading weights on all lower peninsula trunk lines but continued restrictions in the upper peninsula.

ACTION TAKEN TO BLOCK ANY AID TO RUSSIAFUND UNDER SHARP
CONTROL TRIMMED
150 MILLION

BY ALEX H. SINGLETON
Washington, April 30 (P)—The administration's foreign relief program suffered a jolting blow today when the House passed a bill slashed from $350,000,000 to $200,000,000 and clamping sharp controls on help to Russian-dominated countries.

The tattered bill, passed on a rollcall vote of 333 to 66, now goes to the Senate, where the administration hopes it will be restored to something resembling its original form. The Senate foreign relations committee yesterday approved the full $350,000,000 unanimously.

Balkan Grant Separate
(The bill is entirely distinct from the proposed $400,000,000 program of helping stiffen Greece and Turkey against Communism.) The House version, as reworked: 1. Authorizes expenditure of $200,000,000 in American aid abroad.

2. Limits nearly all the aid to Italy, Greece, Austria, Hungary, Poland and China.

3. Provides that none of these countries can get the help if their governments are under the domination of Russia, unless they agree to strict American control of the supplies down to the point of their actual distribution.

4. Sets apart $15,000,000 of the fund for "emergencies" in such unnamed places as Trieste.

5. earmarks another $15,000,000 for the United Nations' children's emergency fund.

6. Requires at least 90 per cent of the relief supplies to be purchased in this country.

7. Prohibits distribution of relief in countries paying war reparations out of current production.

8. Demands as a condition for obtaining the aid, the right of the American press and radio to report on its distribution free from censorship.

9. Places control of distribution under an independent foreign relief administrator, rather than the state department.

Undersecretaries of State Dean Acheson and Will Clayton had sought to keep its terms "flexible" by leaving unnamed the countries to be aided.

But, amid turbulent protests against Russian tactics in countries on the Soviet Union's borders, Rep. Lawrence H. Smith (R-Wis.) successfully led a fight to list the countries by name. He said he did so to make sure that none of the aid would go to Russia itself.

RENT DECISION NEAR

Washington, April 30 (P)—The House, nearing a final decision on new rent control legislation, voted 127 to 48 late today against including continued government controls over use of building materials.

DOCK WORKERS RETURN

London, April 30 (P)—One-tenth of London's 10,000 striking dockworkers decided today to go back to their jobs and the leaders of the remainder called for a mass meeting tomorrow to vote on the back-to-work movement.

High Living Cost In Germany Stirs U. S. Protests

Frankfurt (AP)—Prodded by growing complaints of American civilians against prices charged them in occupied Germany, the U. S. Army has appointed a fact-finding board to ascertain just how much it really costs to live over here.

All Americans, including civilians employed by the War Department or business agencies, must live in Army installations and buy supplies from shops operated by the Army—which fixes the prices.

Accident Delays Northbound Train

North Western Railway train No. 161, scheduled to arrive in Escanaba from the south at 4:25 a. m. yesterday, was delayed until 6:55 a. m. because of a minor accident and engine trouble. Morning deliveries of mail from the south were, therefore, a little late yesterday.

The accident occurred at West Bend, Wis., when a truck struck the train at an intersection. Engine trouble developed later, delaying the train still more.

GLOVE FABRIC SUPPLY SHORT

Company Delays Start Of Operations In Escanaba

The Escanaba Glove company, subsidiary of Eisendrath Glove company, Chicago, has delayed the start of operations in Escanaba because of the shortage of fabric, City Manager A. V. Aronson has been advised by company officials.

The company signed a lease with the City of Escanaba sometime ago for use of the Coliseum, purchased by the city, and has paid a year's rental, $2500, in advance.

The glove factory will be established here as soon as the fabric supply improves.

Albert Charbonneau Completes Training

Pvt. Albert O. Charbonneau of Gladstone Route One has completed six weeks of combined glider and parachute training at the Infantry school in Fort Benning, Ga., and thus has earned the right to wear the "Boots and Wings" of the United States Airborne troops.

This latest type of training involves special instruction in communications, rigging and maintenance of parachutes as well as training in glider operations and parachute jumping.

During his training period Private Charbonneau made seven jumps of which the last two were tactical, one at night and the other at dawn.

Two Men Fined For Illegal Burning

Frank Chouinard, Escanaba, Route One, paid a fine of $15 and $5 court costs in justice court yesterday for failure to provide a sufficient fire break and failure to provide adequate men to control the fire which Chouinard set under a permit granted by the conservation department. Chouinard also was charged with setting a fire greater acreage than the permit provided.

Thomas LaFleur, Bark River, paid a fine of $10 and $5 costs for setting a fire without a permit.

Must Expand Electric System To Meet Needs City Council Advised

To prevent the recurrence of "blackouts" such as occurred last Christmas eve, and to meet the ever-growing demand for electric service, Escanaba's municipally-owned electric utility "is faced with the problem of reconstructing its distributing system and substations."

Hugo Lillquist, superintendent of the electric utility, in a report of activities in his department, described the situation as "the first must in the industrial expansion" program of the city.

During the month of February the city purchased more than one million kilowatt hours of electricity, setting a new peak record. This is compared with the purchase of power in Feb. 1942, which was only a little over one-half million kilowatt hours.

"Only a few years ago, to purchase 40,000 kilowatt hours in one day was considered a record during the holiday season," Lillquist reported. "Today it is not uncommon to purchase that amount almost every day."

Lillquist's report continues: "With such a growth beyond any normal anticipation, it has created an enormous overload on our present substation and also the distribution system which results in such conditions as was experienced during the past holiday season."

In order to overcome this condition and to prevent the recurrence of this past winter, the electric utility is faced with a problem of reconstructing its distribution system and substations in order to meet the demands created by the addition of new homes and the power requirements of the industrial expansion.

In order to get a better picture as to the growth of the electric utility, it may be interesting to point out that in 1938 we purchased a total of 5½ million K.W. Hrs. of electricity, and in 1946 a total of more than 11 million K.W. Hrs. It is to be seen that in the course of eight years the plant has more than doubled its output. With the industrial program going forward as it is, the electric utility must also be considered as an industry, and must be built up to accommodate the increased business created by the incoming new industries.

During the past two months, the electric utility has been making survey of its distribution system and plans are being made for the establishment of a substation in the north end of the city which, when completed, will be independent of its operation from the present substation. It is proposed to establish an independent lighting circuit for all residents north of Ludington street, also an independent power circuit for small users north of Ludington street in addition a 6600 volt circuit for the use of new industries located in the industrial area.

After the establishment of the substation in the north end of the city, it will relieve one complete circuit on the downtown substation. This circuit is to be put in use by dividing two of the present lighting circuits into three equal parts and thereby increasing the capacity of the present station by one third its present load. This change in the distribution system will relieve the overloaded condition now existing on the present system.

At the present time, there is more than 480 K.W. of lighting north of Ludington street and more than 250 K.W. of power (small users) and an industrial load of 240 K.W. This represents about one third of our entire connected load, with deliveries on transformers, switches and copper wire requiring from 12 to 18 months; it is quite apparent that the electric utility becomes the first must in the industrial expansion.

NO! It's ready now

THE "Quonset 40"

This is one big item that the Navy bought to the tune of 154,000—the "Quonset" many-purpose building used in winning the war in the Pacific.

It has proved its value on every island hop between here and Tokyo... has taken more abuse in war than it will ever receive in peace, and has proved to be as rugged, durable and flexible as our fighting men themselves.

Now, the "Quonset 40"—big brother of the famous "Quonset Hut"—is ready for peacetime industry. It may be the answer to some of your building needs, permanent or temporary.

It is 40 feet wide, and can be built in any length. All-steel, it will not rot, sag or warp; and it's fire-safe. It is easy to erect, with Stran-Steel framework—and the outer wall is nailed to the steel structure. It is roomy, too—all clear space inside.

See us today for information about this economical, all-purpose building.

- Build it as large as needed—the "Quonset Multiple" makes possible any width or length desired by standard-sized additions.
- The famous "Quonset 20" returned to civilian life, modified to meet peacetime need; 20 feet wide; length whatever you desire.
- Solid, low-cost construction for standard-type buildings. Use Stran-Steel framing with the patented nailing groove in studs and joists; supplied complete to blueprint specifications with all necessary joining devices.

"Quonset" buildings and Stran-Steel framing are products of Great Lakes Steel Corporation, a unit of National Steel Corporation

U-TURN ILLEGAL ON CROSSWALKS

Practice Is Dangerous To Pedestrians, Says Chief

Chief of Police Mike Ettenhofer declared yesterday that motorists who swing off Ludington street to make U-turns across the pedestrian lanes are violating the city ordinance and that police officers have been instructed to issue violation tickets in all such cases.

Chief Ettenhofer said that motorists generally are under the impression that this type of a U-turn is permissible but he emphasized that it is not only illegal but that it is extremely hazardous to pedestrians on the crosswalks.

U-turns on crosswalks is prohibited as well as U-turns on any portion of Ludington street between Sixth street and 14th street. Motorists can make U-turns on Ludington street beyond the restricted zone but they do so at their risk and will be liable for any accidents that result, the police chief emphasized.

Perkins Legion Post Gets Charter May 8

Perkins, April 30 — The Perkins American Legion post will receive its charter at a special meeting in the Perkins high school at 8 Thursday evening, May 8. The unit has been organized for approximately two months and has a membership of 45.

It is expected many new members will be taken in on charter night. The charter will be presented by Jerry Popour, Spalding, Legion district committee-man.

Delegates from neighboring posts in the area will attend the meeting. They will be contacted soon by Ralph Olsen, Escanaba, Upper Peninsula service officer.

Diamonds are found in shades of green, pink, deep blue, brown and even black.

Streptomycin Saves Patient With Rabbit Fever Pneumonia

Chicago—Streptomycin can save life even before the doctor knows precisely what ails the patient. And it can practically wipe out deaths from rabbit fever pneumonia if given early.

These striking facts about the famous remedy extracted from microbes living in the soil were presented to members of the American College of Physicians meeting here by Dr. Hugh J. Morgan of Vanderbilt University Hospital, who will take office this week as president of the college.

The pneumonia that may come with rabbit fever, or tularemia, used to kill between 20 and 40 of every 100 patients. In a group of 27 patients treated with streptomycin, only one died, Dr. Morgan reported. That death was not due to the tularemia pneumonia but to another condition.

One symptom of tularemia is an ulcer at the spot where the germs nodes, called "kernels," are other signs of the disease.

SPEEDIE TEA RING IN 1/2 THE TIME!

WITH OCCIDENT FLOUR AND THE SPEEDIE METHOD

EASY TO MAKE!

INGREDIENTS

6 1/2 cups OCCIDENT Family Flour
2 cups lukewarm (87° F.) water
1/2 cup sugar
2 cakes compressed yeast
1 tablespoon salt
2 eggs
1/2 cup shortening

METHOD

Place lukewarm water, sugar and yeast in mixing bowl. Add salt and 2 cups sifted flour. Beat with electric mixer or rotary egg beater for 2 minutes. Add eggs and cooled melted shortening, beat 1 minute. Gradually add 4 1/2 cups flour, stirring until a dough is formed. Allow dough to "rest" in bowl for 20 minutes for ease in handling. Dough is now ready to shape into rolls.

EASY TO SHAPE

1. Roll 1/2 of Speedie Dough into a 9 x 15 inch rectangle on a floured bread board. (Balance of dough may be used for a second tea ring or for any other desired roll variations.) Blend 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon and 1/4 cup melted shortening; spread on dough.

2. Roll jelly-roll fashion and place on greased baking sheet with sealed edge down. Shape into a ring and seal ends together.

3. With scissors cut through ring to 1/2 inch of inner edge—in 1-inch slices. Twist each slice on its side. Cover and let rise in a warm place (about 85° F.) for 40 minutes. Bake 30-35 minutes in a moderately hot oven (375°).

4. Prepare icing by blending 1/2 cup powdered sugar, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, 1 tablespoon milk. Spread on warm Tea Ring. Nuts and maraschino cherries may be placed on icing.

"Made in America"

THE "Made in America" tag that the U. S. senate foreign relations committee has insisted must be displayed on all relief shipments to foreign countries is a sensible regulation that is designed to guarantee that the United States gets credit for the aid that it is sending abroad.

In line with this policy, the house of representatives has voted to deny relief supplies to any Russian-donated country unless that country agreed to rigid U. S. supervision of the distribution.

First of all, this policy will prevent relief supplies allocated to Poland, for instance, from being diverted to Russia. More importantly, it will guarantee that the Polish people who receive American aid will know that their benefactor is the United States and not Soviet Russia.

If we are going to pour out millions of dollars in relief to foreign nations, we should at least see that the supplies are being properly distributed and that the recipients are aware that the supplies are made available to them through the generosity of the American people.

Homecoming Event

THE Hiawathaland Festival, which will be staged in Escanaba July 3 to 6, will be publicized as a homecoming event to attract former Escanabans who are now residing in all parts of the country.

The festival will present four days, crowded with numerous activities for young and old. A nightly pageant will depict the interesting history of Escanaba and Hiawathaland from the day of the early Indians. Sail and motor boat races, archery, trapshooting, golf, tennis, baseball and many other sports events will bring many contestants from all over the Middle West.

For the convenience of those people who wish to invite their relatives and friends to attend the Hiawathaland Festival, the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce has issued an attractive folder, which portrays the community's recreational attractions. The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce will gladly send the folders to the out-of-town folks, if supplied with their names and addresses.

Wave of Burglaries

THE wave of petty burglaries that has reached epidemic proportions in Escanaba in recent days may be or may not be the work of delinquent minors but it is noteworthy that the burglaries continue, even though the loot has been far too light to interest professional thieves.

For the past week the burglaries have maintained the rate of about one a night. In some places there has been no loot at all and in others only a few dollars. It appears suspiciously like the work of youngsters who apparently fail to realize the extreme gravity of their crimes.

In most cases entrance has been made first by smashing the glass in a door or window and since this pattern has been general in nearly all instances, it conveys the impression that all of the burglaries in recent weeks are the work of the same culprits.

It suggests the thought that local parents might do well to check up on the whereabouts of their youngsters when they come in late at night without adequate explanation of where they have been.

Bird House Contest

THE citywide bird house building contest sponsored by the city recreation department, open to all youngsters, boys and girls up to the age of 18, provides an excellent opportunity for local youth to learn more about the habits of our feathered friends.

Despite the discovery of DDT and all of the other insect control weapons, civilization would have an almost hopeless task in the fight against insects if it were not for the birds. They deserve our most sincere thanks and our helping hand.

To construct an adequate bird house for a specific kind of bird, youngsters must study the habits of these birds and to learn something of their likes and dislikes.

Parents are urged to encourage their children to join in the birdhouse building contest and although the elders are not eligible for the contest, they can build birdhouses, too.

Lumber Prices Sag

FAILURE of the anticipated building boom to materialize has caused high lumber prices to hit the toboggan, according to a survey made by the Wall Street Journal.

The reputable financial daily points out that lumber prices have been inflated way out of line, but that dealers are experiencing consumer resistance. A New York city retail yard reports that the F. O. B. mill price on southern yellow pine dropped from $75 to $60 in the last couple weeks. Douglas fir has slipped about 10 per cent, and quotations on other lumber have declined correspondingly.

The drop in lumber prices is attributed to the lag in the expected building boom. The other side of the picture is that the construction boom has been retarded by the high prices of building materials.

Many families would like to have that postwar home they have been dreaming about for several years, but they want it at a reasonable price.

Pride in School Forests

IN ALL school officials could see the tremendous pride the youngsters of Garden high school and Rapid River high school take in their school forests, it's certain that the school forest program in the Upper Peninsula will expand rapidly.

The Garden school forest now consists of 160 acres, the last forty of which is being replanted with pine seedlings. An original forty and a subsequent 80-acre plot have already been completely planted and trees planted as seedlings a half dozen years ago or more are growing majestically to the height of the youngsters now in school.

School forest plantings this year have been restricted to 3,000 trees each, equally divided between red pine and jack pine, but more nursery stock undoubtedly will be available in the years ahead.

Under the state school forest act, schools can acquire forest lands without cost merely by applying to the state conservation department. Trees for restocking also are provided without cost to the school district. Thus, all that a school—or community—needs to establish a forest of its own is the initiative and, of course, an understanding of the great importance of reforestation in the Upper Peninsula.

If today's school children are taught the value of reforestation and learn the recognized sound forest management practices, the danger of denuding the Upper Peninsula to the detriment of the people of succeeding generations will be materially lessened.

Other Editorial Comments

PUNISH OR REFORM? (Detroit News)

The disposition of the case of Mel Shane, who must return to an Ohio prison, leaves one with an uneasy feeling that here society's system of correction has somehow failed.

Shane as a youth was sentenced in Ohio for possession of burglar's tools. After serving three years he slugged a guard, escaped from a prison farm and made his way here.

In Detroit, beginning as a machinist, he eventually organized and became head of a $500,000-a-year tool business. He was arrested last fall on an anonymous tip.

Michigan officials and other substantial persons appealed to Ohio authority, but in vain, in his behalf. Shane must serve two years for the slugging; possibly longer, on the charge for which he first went to prison.

Here again is an old conflict of conception of the purpose of imprisonment. If its proper aim is punishment, Ohio's course is quite in order. If it is reformation, Shane has effected that for himself, and must do so again—at least he must again pick up the broken thread of life and try.

There is no question that most people in this day incline to the latter view. They will doubt seriously if prison now can do anything for Shane or for the community which has been done.

HOUSING OBSTACLES (Chicago Daily News)

Building unions officials explained to Reporter Robert M. Lewin their views as to why building activity is stalled in Chicago. They are quite sure that union wages are not responsible. They put the blame on other causes, some of which are undoubtedly factors.

We respectfully invite the attention of these gentlemen to some things they omitted in their discussion of why the people of Chicago cannot afford to build.

The A.F.L. unions will not permit the erection of prefabricated houses.

They will not permit the installation of preglazed windows.

They will not permit paint to be applied by spray machines or even by brushes of reasonable width.

They will not permit the use of ready-mixed cement.

They severely restrict the amount of work any craftsman in their unions may do in a day or an hour.

And so, many of them are out of jobs, notwithstanding the fact that the greatest unsatisfied need of the city and the nation is for housing.

When you spend all your time dreaming, dreams don't come true.

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Butte: Will you please discuss the meaning and pronunciation of Henry Morgenthau's surname.—P. A.

Answer: The name Morgenthau is German. It means "morning dew." The German pronunciation is MAWR-gen-thaw, the third syllable having the vowel sound of "ou" as in "bout, tout."

However, Henry Morgenthau, Jr., former secretary of the treasury, has Anglicized the name. I have a letter from his private secretary which states: "Mr. Morgenthau pronounces his name with the last syllable as it is spelled—that is, like the word 'thaw.'" The correct pronunciation, then, is MAWR-gen-thaw.

Houston: Please discuss the pronunciation of Somerset Maugham, the English writer. Also explain how he got the head-over-heels name Somerset.—H. B. G.

Answer: His full name is William Somerset Maugham. Somerset is pronounced:

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—Secretary of State George C. Marshall's report on the Moscow conference is not likely to become a party issue. Most members of congress will give their approval with varying degrees of enthusiasm or reluctance.

Childs

That was apparent after the Secretary's Sunday-evening session with congressional leaders at the White House. Both Republicans and Democrats came away from that session with the sober realization that Marshall had gone as far as he could go at Moscow without compromising our basic interest in securing a decent peace between free and independent nations. From the extreme left and the extreme right, the criticism will continue. These same extremes—Sen. Glen H. Taylor of Idaho on the one hand and Sen. Albert W. Hawkes of New Jersey on the other—contributed the chief opposition to the program for aiding Greece and Turkey.

—MAJORITY FOR IT—

But the important fact is that the great majority in Congress is behind the present policy. And this means that the great majority of the American people will be found more or less in accord with the firm line that Secretary Marshall has taken.

It does not, of course, mean that a bipartisan foreign policy will inevitably bring agreement on all phases of that policy. The truth is that the term bipartisan has been greatly overworked in this connection. If we can avoid partisan quarrels over the basic line to be taken, that is probably all that can be expected under our system of divided powers.

Our government provides no machinery for continuing consultation between party leaders in congress and the men who make policy in the state department. That is dependent to a large degree on personalities. Under-Secretary Dean Acheson has been particularly successful in dealing with congress, which makes his imminent resignation the more unfortunate.

Perhaps a permanent undersecretary in the tradition of the British foreign office would help. Such a non-political official would give continuity to policy when a new administration came in. At best, however, this would be a minor change.

Cooperation depends, in the last analysis, on the skill and tact of Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg. He has no official mandate from his party to speak for the party on foreign policy. At a time of intense rivalry for position, the Senator from Michigan must move warily. If he goes too far, he can destroy his own usefulness.

Most of the burden of support for the Greek-Turkish program in the senate fell on Vandenberg. The Democratic leader, Sen. Alben Barkley of Kentucky, was out of the country while the issue was being debated. Sen. Tom Connally of Texas, ranking Democrat on the Foreign Relations committee, raised an emotional plea for the Truman doctrine, but the task of conviction and persuasion fell to Vandenberg. It was he who worked out the amendments intended to bring the policy in line with United Nations cooperation.

—NOT LIKELY TO ACCEPT—

Sen. Vandenberg is not now a member of the American delegation to the U. S. assembly. Under U. N. regulations, a new delegation must be named for each new assembly. It is not likely that Vandenberg will accept membership on our delegation so long as the Republicans have a majority in congress and a Democrat is in White House. The fact that the delegation is subject to the "orders" of the President would complicate Vandenberg's position in the senate and inside the GOP.

Agreement must be more than a form of words to mean anything. Marshal Tito, Yugoslavia's hard-boiled dictator, agrees with Henry Wallace's views on American foreign policy. We learn this from no less an authority than Johannes Steel, the radio commentator who ran for congress on the American Labor Party ticket in New York, with Wallace's backing. Interviewing Tito in Belgrade, Steel comes up with these extraordinary quotes:

"The Yugoslav people love Wallace as a man who belongs to the great democratic tradition of America. We like people who are objective. On the whole," and here Tito grinned broadly, "I agree with the greater part of Wallace's speeches."

We can all grin broadly at that one. We can even laugh out loud. For we know how empty that kind of agreement is. We know it is a convenient pose assumed to serve the current Communist strategy in the Balkans and throughout the world.

SUM-er-set, Maugham is pronounced: MAWM.

The name Somerset is borne by the descendants of the earls and dukes of Somerset. Maugham, apparently, is related, either by blood or marriage, to the aristocratic Somerset clan.

The name Somerset is derived from Somersetshire, a south-western county of England. The name has no connection with our word Somerset, which actually is a corruption of somersault, which, in turn, is the English form of the Old French somersault, from the Latin supra, "above," plus saltus, "a leap."

New Orleans: How did Hartford, Conn., get its name?—H. H.

Answer: In 1635 the settlement was established by Thomas Hooker and Samuel Stone. It was first called Newtown, but in 1637 the name Hartford was adopted, from Hertford, England, Stone's birthplace. The English pronunciation of Hertford is "HAHR-ferd," and this influenced the spelling of Hartford with "a" in the first syllable. It's pronounced: HAHR-ferd.

THE PHONE STRIKE —If the phone strike was not settled yesterday it is now in its 24th day—which is just about 24 days too long.

common sense reasoning to a situation that is rapidly becoming intolerable.

In these days there are very few of the more than 130,000,000 people in the United States whose way of life is not more or less dependent upon the rapid and easy communication provided by the telephone. The losses that have accumulated since the telephone strike began are not only those of the strikers and the telephone companies. They are peanuts compared to the financial losses and anxieties suffered by the people of the United States.

MONOPOLIES —It has been said and repeated too often that the law must protect the working man in his right to strike. It has not been said often enough that the law should also protect the people of the United States against power-drunk monopolistic unions. The laws of the United States and the States do regulate the industrial and business monopolies, and the telephone company is one of these.

Yet as soon as a law to regulate the union monopoly is suggested there is immediate reaction in some quarters that an effort is being made to infringe the right of the "individual."

By its very name and nature a labor union that can cripple the nation's telephone communication system for 24 days becomes a monopoly. If it were not a monopoly there would be a competing or rival union that would and could step forward to provide the service the telephone union has withdrawn.

The only "individual" whose rights are being ignored in the present telephone labor-management dispute is the right of the individual American to receive the communication service which his patronage has built.

INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS —Take the striker away from his union and he is an individual: take the union away from the employee and he becomes relatively powerless to deal effectively with the management of many large industries.

Take the patronage of the individual away from the large industry and it becomes a financial failure.

It is the individual user or consumer whose "rights" must be protected in this democracy of ours. If it becomes necessary these "rights" of the individual must be protected by law.

John L. Lewis' mine union monopoly may be disintegrating as some political writers infer. If it is, the reason is obvious. He has ignored the rights of the individual, both without and within his union. Lewis was finally halted by the federal government, and in a grandiose gesture gives $100,000 to support the telephone strike. It was not his money and he did not ask the union miners if they

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

The Negaunee male choir, under the direction of R. W. Nordling, former Escanaba high school music director, will present a concert at the First M. E. church here this evening at 7:30.

Washington—The chairman of a house appropriation sub-committee asked the heads of 32 independent agencies of the federal government today to help attain "at least a ten per cent" reduction in their 1938 budget requests.

The present attempt to transfer the administration of public and tax-delinquent lands from the Lands Division of the Conservation Department to a politically board turns the spotlight of public attention once more to one of Michigan's oldest and most perplexing problems; that of her tax-delinquent lands, according to Henry Wylie, well known authority on land problems.

Twenty Years Ago

Washington—Twenty thousand miles of airways opened to them as messengers of goodwill in Pan-America lay behind Major Herbert A. Dargue and his seven companions of the army air corps when they dropped gracefully to earth at Bolling Field late today to report in person to President Coolidge that the task he had assigned to them was completed.

Rev. C. A. Lund of Escanaba was re-elected president of the Superior conference, Lutheran Augustana Synod of North America, held in Ironwood last week.

Chicago—University of Michigan scientists today disclosed having discovered a chemical or mechanical method for producing life as a result of experiments in which star fish and sea urchin were developed from fertilized eggs, stimulated in growth by ultra-violet rays.

"The Whole Town's Talking," to be presented by the senior class of the Escanaba high school Friday evening, May 13, is being competently directed by Miss Emily Cripps of the high school faculty.

agreed to it, therefore the gift proves only Lewis' dictatorial power over his union. Where is the "right of the individual" in this instance?

PENDULUM SWINGS —Just as John L. Lewis and some other labor leaders have grown too big for their britches, the management of American "big business" once burst at the seams with unregulated monopolistic power.

Because the individual worker was being crushed under a system of sweatshop conditions, long hours and low pay, the workers organized into unions. The "rights" of the union worker were achieved and conditions for the mass of workers became better. Laws rule out the sweatshop, over long hours of work, and even regulate wages.

Today in the vast majority of industries the relationship between union labor and management is one of healthy respect for the power of the other.

But because of strikes the pendulum of public sentiment, reflected in the halls of congress, is for laws regulating monopolistic unions headed by irresponsible and dictatorial leaders. It is entirely possible that some of these laws and regulations may go too far the other way just as they did during the period when it was necessary to trim the wings of high flying business moguls.

THE RESPONSIBILITY —It will be unfortunate if laws are passed that create within the individual worker the feeling that he is the victim of discrimination.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—The death of Evalyn Walsh McLean of Hope Diamond fame closes a unique chapter in the life of Washington. A chapter featured not only by poker parties and politicians, jewels and caviar, but by humanity and humility.

Pearson

Though she went in for celebrities, Mrs. McLean had an even longer list of friends whose names meant nothing in the society columns, but who were just plain folks. They were invited to her house because she liked them.

Mrs. McLean always said that the Hope diamond brought her bad luck, yet she clung to it. Her first child was killed in a traffic accident. Her husband died in an asylum for the insane. This winter her only daughter, the wife of ex-Senator Robert Reynolds of North Carolina, died of an overdose of sleeping tablets.

Friends sometimes asked Mrs. McLean why she did not sell the Hope diamond. Her reply was that it would only bring bad luck to other people. Once she temporarily traded the diamond to Elliott Roosevelt—for a dollar.

She had met Elliott accidentally in the Kit Kat club in New York and invited him to her table. Elliott was so critical of his father and other members of the family that Mrs. McLean, a Republican and close friend of Warren Harding, remonstrated.

"You shouldn't talk that way about your father," she said. "After all, I don't agree with a lot of things he's done. He's conscripted wealth and so on, but personally he's a fine man."

Finally, she gave Elliott the Hope diamond, and he in return gave her a silver dollar which he carried for luck. Then, remembering the bad-luck reputation of the diamond, Elliott got almost panic-stricken and started to retrieve his dollar by force. At that point, Mrs. McLean traded back her diamond.

—CHIEF JUSTICE REBUFTED—

Mrs. McLean was so crushed at the death recently of her daughter that she shut herself up for weeks. Friends worried about her long seclusion, but she refused to see them. Only the servants remained with her in the spacious, brick Georgetown house, formerly owned by Ambassador Alexander Kirk of the Kirk Soap millions.

Finally, kindly Fred Vinson, whose dignified robes as chief justice have never detracted from his human qualities, decided to try to cheer Mrs. McLean. He and Mrs. Vinson walked up to the McLean front door and knocked. A butler opened the door but did not let them in.

"Mrs. McLean is not seeing anyone," he said.

"Will you tell her that the chief justice and Mrs. Vinson just wanted to say hello for a moment?" requested Vinson. "Won't you just please tell her that we are here?"

But the butler was adamant. The chief justice and Mrs. Vinson turned away from the McLean door, and the sorrowing owner of the Hope diamond remained in virtual seclusion until the end came last week.

—LABOR'S MOSCOW CONFERENCE—

Two men representing more people than the population of Australia sit down today to negotiate peace for American labor. They are William Green of the A. F. of L. and Phil Murray of the CIO. Their unity talks may be even more difficult than the Moscow conference.

Green's attitude on labor peace has always been snobbish. He has offered the CIO a chance to return to the AFL, but little leadership inside the AFL. This the CIO has constantly rejected.

But today the grass-roots pressure from the ranks of labor is too strong, even for "Mother" Green. Labor all over the country has been demanding that the AFL and CIO forget their differences, work together to block the Hartley labor bill.

Originally, one wing of the AFL, led by John L. Lewis, Carpenters' Boss Bill Huteson and George Meany of the Plumbers, thought they could do business with the Republicans. But the GOP labor blitz has left them disillusioned. Result is that the great majority of the AFL, led by Teamsters' head Dan Tobin, and Garment Workers' David Dubinsky sincerely feel that there must be labor peace.

—A. F. OF L. DEMANDS—

So, at today's labor talks, Bill Green will abandon his hitherto high-and-mighty attitude. However, he'll demand certain concessions from the CIO, and this will be his program:

1. Purge all Communists from the CIO.
2. Withdraw from the World Federation of Trade Unions.
3. Abolish the CIO Political Action Committee.

In return Green will offer the CIO equal membership on the AFL executive board; also complete autonomy for all CIO unions in industries where the CIO has a majority of the members.

Murray will accept some but not all of these proposals. Also, he will have some counterproposals of his own. He will remind Green that the CIO is now twice as big as the AFL which it left eleven years ago. He will point out that much of the AFL's size and success today is due to the dynamic competition given it by the CIO.

Finally, he will express fear that creating a labor monopoly and abolishing competition will stunt, rather than spur, unionization.

The fellow who writes ideas on his cuff usually has something more up his sleeve.

Almost 100,000 autoists got in a traffic jam to attend a maple festival in Ohio. The sap both ran and drove.

Thirty years ago women never thought of doing the things they do today, says a writer. That may be why they didn't do them.

"HAM" RADIO IN ACTION—Harold Meiers Jr., 421 South 13th street, is the operator of amateur radio station W8YNF, with which he contacts "hams" all over the world. The windmill-like tower you see in this picture layout is not for pumping water; it's Meiers' device for picking up short wave radio signals. Meiers erected the impressive-looking tower at his home after he returned from service with the Marines about a year ago.

Radio 'Hams' Are Back At It Again After War

When you're driving along South 13th street don't think you are dreaming when you see a windmill tower. That strange looking affair at the top is not a new way to get water from the ground, it's a very efficient way to pick short wave radio signals from the air.

Harold Meiers, Jr., amateur radio station W8YNF, 421 South 13th street, has been actively engaged in rigging up a top notch amateur radio station since his return from the Marines about a year ago.

The gadget atop the tower rises about forty feet in the air and is rotatable from his combination radio shack and neon manufacturing plant. It is sturdily constructed of thin wall tubing mounted on a ladder for strength. The ladder is mounted on top of a 15-foot galvanized, rotating pipe. Power is fed into this antenna by the transmitter through 75 ohm twin lead, coated wire.

Contacts Circle Globe
The equipment of his station is of the finest and cards on his wall re-assure unbelievers that his contacts have circled the globe.

His transmitter is a BC-610. The same kind of transmitter used by the United States Army Signal Corps in various outposts in foreign countries and in United States camps. It is capable of switching from low power to high power and operates both code (cw) and phone.

The station has been operating on ten meters, the band that contacts the world, although any other amateur band can be operated with but the changing of coils and crystals in the main transmitter. But that windmill antenna is only for ten meters.

When you pass, if it is rotating slowly, you'll know that it is not the wind turning it, but that Harry has heard a signal coming in on his SX-25 receiver that he wants to contact. The antenna is directional and must be rotated so that the long thin wall tubing elements are broadcast in the direction of the incoming signal.

His receiver is an SX-25 hallicrafters, and not satisfied with the loud signals it brings in, Harry has built a pre-selector to put ahead of the receiver. This brings in those signals that you can't hear otherwise, such as Okinawa, Tokyo, Nanking and other far places.

He is building a portable transmitter for his car and night finds him driving around testing with other local operators.

Other "Ham" Operators
Henry Olsen, W8ZMN, another local operator with a transmitter on his air has added an element to his rotary beam array and his beam is solidly supported by a tower on the top of his home at 321 South 18th street.

Ray Laakko of Ishpeming has been on the air here in Escanaba for the past two months and just recently put his ten meter equipment in his car. It is powered by a portable dynamotor and works very efficiently. His call is W8-WUD.

Helen Cloutier, W8GJX has been an active operator on the air since 1929. Her equipment is the same as Harry Meiers and, since the war she has contacted 35 foreign countries. When she moved to Escanaba her father, Henry H. Hargreaves at Manistique, decided he would like to become a ham and they contact daily. His equipment is an HT-9 transmitter, an S-20-R receiver and a three element rotary beam.

To become a ham is not an easy job. One must study radio fundamentals, radio mathematics and various other related subjects, then go to Chicago, Detroit or St. Paul and take the examination given by the Federal Radio Communications Commission. You must know code and pass a test in that. After you have mastered these subjects you can study radio-telephone and take another examination so that you can operate a radio-phone station.

There is always equipment to repair and adjust, antennas to rebuild and remodel, portable gear to keep in shape in case of any emergency.

Several townspeople have been called by some of these stations and have been able to talk to friends and relatives in California, Florida and various other places free of charge. A contact with England, Rome and Berlin or South Africa, Algiers or Lima, Peru are all in a day's "Hamming" on the ten meter band. The recent disaster in Texas City was another proof to the public that Amateur radio is necessary not only as a hobby but as an emergency aid. The amateurs in Texas City handled all the messages out of that city until other equipment could be repaired.

On the larger air lines, planes are checked and serviced on landing, and every 40 and 80 hours they are given a more thorough inspection. They are hauled into a central repair base at the end of 350 hours in the air for a general overhaul of engines and planes.

Mental Hygiene Meeting Will Be Held On Friday

The annual meeting of the Upper Peninsula Mental Hygiene Association will be held in the auditorium at the Northern Michigan College of Education at Marquette on Friday, May 2, according to an announcement by Carroll C. Rushton, chairman.

The morning session, which will commence at 9:30 following registration at the College, will feature three speakers. Mrs. Lucille Barbour from the Michigan Children's Institute at Ann Arbor will discuss the place of the foster child in school. Miss Jeanette Simmons, health education consultant from the Michigan Department of Health, will discuss how the mental health program fits into public health work. Dr. Samuel W. Hartwell, assistant director of the State Department of Mental Health in charge of Mental Hygiene, will discuss the practice of mental hygiene in the schools.

The afternoon session, beginning at 2 o'clock, will be a panel discussion of the various aspects of the mental hygiene program as applied to the home, the community, and the school. The members of the panel will be: Carroll C. Rushton, moderator; Dr. Charles A. Zeller, director of the Department of Mental Health, who will discuss some of the general problems which face mental hygiene at a state level; Dr. Hartwell who will discuss the school referrals to the Children's Centers; Dr. John Berghorst, psychiatrist in charge of the Traveling Clinic for Children at Traverse City, who will discuss the applications of child guidance in a rural area; Dr. M. Cooperstock, Medical Director of the Northern Michigan Children's Clinic, who will present a picture of some psychosomatic problems of children encountered at the Northern Michigan Children's Clinic; Willard M. Whitman, Marquette Superintendent of Schools, who will discuss the public schools and mental hygiene; Mrs. Barbour who will present some ideas about adoption and adopted children; and Miss Simmons who will discuss referrals of school children to the public health program. After an initial statement by each member of the panel, the discussion will be open to the audience.

The purpose of the Association has been to sponsor the establishment and continuing support of the Upper Peninsula Children's Center, and in addition, to interest itself in other aspects of the mental hygiene program as related to children and adults.

The county members of the Advisory Council are as follows: Alger, Mrs. Richard Nebel; Mrs. Ruth Webber, Harlow Wood; Baraga, Miss Ella Steinbach; C. J. Sullivan; Chippewa, Dr. T. W. Thompson, Judge Violet B. Vail, Carl J. Wiedenhofer; Delta, Dr. Harold Groos, John Lemmer, Mrs. Barbara Hall Watt; Dickinson, Mr. Wesley J. Davis; Judge Roy Derham, Mrs. Mary Newkirk; Gogebic, Arthur E. Erickson, Judge Robert Wright; Houghton, Herman W. Rahn, Harry J. Trainor, Judge Herman A. Weider; Iron, Mrs. Ollie C. Rosenquist; John Winquist; Keewenaw, Miss Elizabeth Bryant; Luce, Dr. William Purmort, Miss Cora M. Sherman, C. D. Zaglemeier; Mackinac, Judge Herbert L. Taylor, Mrs. Belle Thompson; Marquette, Father Emil J. Beyer, Gilbert L. Brown, Dr. M. Cooperstock; Dr. W. A. Corcoran, H. S. Doollittle, Dr. Charles P. Drury, Dr. Eugene Elzinga, Walter Gries, Ogden Johnson, Howard J. Larson, Donald McCormick, Rt. Reverend Herman R. Page, Reverend Frederick C. Vosberg; Menominee, Mrs. Frank Berg, Dr. John Kaye, Judge Katherine Laughton; Ontonagon, Mrs. Catherine Breitenbach, Elwin T. White; Schoolcraft, Mrs. J. Joseph Herbert, Dr. George A. Shaw.

Miss Pearl Windsor Again Heads School

Iron River — Miss Pearl Windsor was reappointed superintendent of schools at a substantial increase in salary by the board of education yesterday afternoon, and all principals, teachers, janitors and other personnel of the school district were also invited to return for the 1947-1948 term with more pay.

Salary increases will not be fixed until further word is received on state aid. According to Miss Windsor, whose current salary is $4,300 per year, the 42 teachers were given tentative increases of between $200 and $275 annually, and janitors, bus drivers and other personnel an average of 10 per cent.

Joseph LaChapelle Dies; Ill 4 Months

Napoleon Joseph LaChapelle, 83, of 112 North 12th street, Escanaba, died at his home at 9:55 last night after an illness of four months.

He was born March 12, 1864, in St. Lin, Quebec, Canada, and came to this country at the age of 14. He resided in the vicinity of Escanaba for 69 years.

Mr. LaChapelle owned and operated the original charcoal kilns at Hyde and later went into the lumbering business as a jobber. He was a member of St. Ann church and of the Holy Name Society.

Survivors are his widow and the following children: Hector, of Cornell, Mich.; Napoleon Jr., of Escanaba; Adrian, of Minneapolis; Mrs. Harry Schultz, Minneapolis; Gilbert, Escanaba, and Louis, Marinette, Wis., and one step-daughter, Mrs. Laura Jacobson, Gladstone. Twenty grandchildren also survive him.

The body was brought to the Boyce funeral home. Burial arrangements will be completed today.

More Banks To Be Opened In Manila
 (P) Newsfeatures
 Manila — Manila soon will have a dozen banks open for business, Pedro de la Costa, islands banking commissioner, disclosed with the indication that he would recommend approval by the finance department of the applications of three additional institutions.

The American owned Bank of America will open its first Oriental branch this spring. The Filipino-owned Bank of the Commonwealth and the Monte de Piedad, forced to close after the liberation because the Japanese had stripped their assets, also expect to come into the local financial scene.

The Monte de Piedad, originally the municipal pawnshop, is controlled by the Catholic archbishop of Manila. It recently received a fortune in jewels which the United States army had removed from the bank to Corregidor and then by submarine to the Treasury vaults in Washington to keep them from enemy hands.

Meanwhile the government-controlled Philippine National Bank told its stockholders its net profits last year were $1,600,000 while bank resources totaled $261,000,000, showing a 48 per cent increase over 1945.

Raise Of $2 To $4 Offered Strikers By Michigan Bell

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company on Wednesday offered its striking employees pay raises of $2.00 to $4.00 a week, geared to local wage conditions in the communities it serves.

As the length of the telephone strike approached its first full month, Thomas N. Lacy, president of the company, emphasized the offer was not an across the board proposal.

"The offer," he said, "is in keeping with local conditions in the various communities, based upon extensive locality wage surveys made by Michigan Bell."

Lacy said that even though wage studies indicate that no increase is justified in certain out-state localities and in certain crafts, a $2.00 a week, across the board raise is offered at all out-state exchanges in order to get the strike settled. In doing so, he added, the company is anticipating the influence that recent wage increases may exert in such communities.

The company's offer was made on the condition that all other demands will be resolved. Unions originally had presented more than one hundred demands, highlighted by a minimum wage increase of $12.00 a week, across the board. Total demands amounted to $26,000,000 a year, for an average of $25.00 more a week, or 63 cents an hour, for every employee.

"The company made its offer following assurances from the unions that they were in a position to make final settlement subject only to the ratification of its members," Lacy said. "The offer affects only the unions representing Michigan Bell employees. It does not set, nor is it intended to set, any industry wide pattern."

Lacy estimated the offer, if accepted, will cost the company an additional $4,000,000 a year.

"Although the customer pays the cost of providing telephone service including labor costs, we probably would await further developments to determine the full effect of any such wage increase on company earnings before requesting the Michigan Public Service Commission for rate increases," Lacy said. "Current earnings of the company are well under 6 cents on the investment dollar and the added wage burden would force earnings down still further."

Airline Freight And Passenger Service Is Below Capacity
 New York (AP)—Statistics compiled by the magazine American Aviation from data supplied by the Civil Aeronautics Board on the December, 1946, activities of 19 scheduled-flight domestic American airlines, showed 68.2 per cent of the available passenger seats and 61.8 per cent of the available freight and express capacity were used that month.

The report showed there were 747,978,587 available passenger seat miles of flying, with 510,048,688 seat miles used by 1,032,604 passengers. There were 102,884,298 available freight and express ton-miles flown by domestic planes of which 61,697,256 ton miles produced revenue.

A total of 723 planes were used.

Radio In Review

By John Crosby

Soap Opera and the American Home

Elaine Carrington, one of the better soap opera writers, in a recent speech offered a spirited defense of her trade with the words: "Only one institution has remained strong—the American home. I write about the American home. The idea that soap opera strengthens or even has a nodding acquaintance with the sanctity of the American home is strange indeed."

In fact, this curious notion sent me prowling through a mass of notes on the soaps which have cluttered up my desk for over a year to no apparent purpose. On top of this pile is a clipping from "The Canadian National Magazine" about a man named Harvey Yates, whose job as radio control man of the Canadian National Telegraph forces him to listen to network programs nine hours a day and in consequence makes him a world authority on soap opera.

"I can remember the story of 'Big Sister' back to the time when John Wayne first got married," says Mr. Yates. "His first wife tried to poison him, you know."

Then she got the wrong cup and drank it herself. So she died. Then Ruth's first husband died of pneumonia or something in Chinatown on the West Coast. He couldn't die at home like normal people do. Then Ruth married John"....

From this tender story of the American home, I progressed down to a note I scribbled a year ago and have been staring at helplessly ever since. It's a direct quote from the announcer on the "Ma Perkins" show: "Do you remember the night Fay woke up to find the window open and the crib empty? Her baby had disappeared. Fay has been acting strange ever since." That last sentence ranks high among the famous understatements of my experience.

And here is a random note about the American home or more specifically "Right to Happiness." This was way back when Caroline was indicted for the murder of her friend Ginny. "Twenty-four hours ago she wouldn't have believed such a thing possible," said the announcer, adding in a more cheerful tone. "Mrs. S. writes that she didn't believe her clothes could get so clean." Those two sentences were awarded the Crosby prize for incredulity in 1946.

Here's a bit of faded intelligence concerning "Backstage Wife." On this particular afternoon, Mary was recovering from the effects of having been drugged, locked in a room and left to die by some one charitably described as "mentally not well." I remember this with particular clarity because it was the same afternoon that Stella Dallas, whose woes directly follow those of "Backstage Wife" on N. B. C., was trying desperately to prevent Elsie from reading the letter that would destroy forever her faith in her mother. I've often wondered if she ever read the letter.

Another of the more unusual American homes is reverently written up in "Masquerade." The last time I paid any attention to it, Mary Fields had succeeded in palming off on her husband another woman's baby as her own. "Our Gal Sunday" doesn't fall entirely into the American home class. This is a story of an American orphan married to a titled Englishman which, according to a press release, poses "the question of whether a girl from a little mining town can find happiness as the wife of a titled Englishman." It's been on the air eleven years and the question isn't settled yet.

Then there's "Young Widder Brown." The widder when last heard from was having a terrible time trying to get her man Anthony to marry her. Her children's mind had been poisoned against Anthony, a divorcee was making a pitch for him, and besides Anthony's sister was dead set against the match. Then the widder got fainting spells and feared she was going blind.

In fairness to Miss Carrington it ought to be noted that she doesn't write any of these soap operas. Still, the use of the phrase American home as a defense of soap opera is just plain nonsense. If the American home had anything in common with the soaps, we'd all be better off dead.

Marquette Chosen For Conventions

Marquette—The annual Upper Peninsula Home Economics Guest Day—held Saturday at the Northern Michigan College of Education—ushered in Marquette's 1947 "convention season."

Four hundred students and teachers from 24 schools attended the "guest day."

One state convention is included in the schedule of gatherings to be held in Marquette during the next several months, according to an announcement from the Chamber of Commerce. It is the state meeting of the Michigan Federation of Labor, which will be conducted here during the last week in June.

Two Upper Peninsula meetings are scheduled for next month. They are the U. P. bankers' convention, set for May 17 and 18, and the Francis M. Moore Consistory reunion, to be held on May 21, 22, 23 and 24.

Although several other conventions probably will be conducted here during the summer, the only other one scheduled now is the Region 7 gathering of the Michigan Education association. It will be held on October 2 and 3.

Wells News

Wells, Mich.—Mary Jacobsen, 7 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malvin Jacobsen, 14 Harland avenue, was honored with a birthday party Saturday, April 26. Friends attending were: Nancy Weberg, Margaret Kroll, Jean Hoes, Mary Ellen Vanderville, Patsy Poquette, Rose Mary Vardian, Nancy Lee Pilon, Nancy Liberty, Elaine Terrien and Mary's sister Donna Mae. The children played games, with Elaine Terrien and Rose Mary Vardian winning the prizes. Lunch was served by Mrs. Jacobsen and Miss Ann Anderson. The color scheme for the party was pink and white. Mary received many lovely gifts.

Miss Ann Anderson, who spent the week end at the home of her sister, Mrs. Melvin Jacobsen, motored to her home in Ensign Sunday.

Mrs. Carl Sylvester, 8 Sawdust Road, returned to her home Tuesday morning after visiting with her sister, Mrs. Ernest R. Johnson of Chicago.

SEA LAMPREY STUDY STARTED

State Asks Reports On Location Of Spring Spawning Runs

Michigan and other states and the Province of Ontario have declared war on the sea lamprey, the parasitic "vampire of the Great Lakes" that threatens the extinction of some of the finest food fishes in this region.

Both commercial and sports fishermen have become increasingly alarmed in recent years over the attacks of the sea lamprey upon fish in the Great Lakes and tributary waters. Commercial fishermen report that lake trout in Lake Michigan are particularly hard hit, while sports fishermen in Lower Michigan have reported that even brook trout are being attacked in certain streams.

The sea lamprey is an eel-like creature that came originally from the ocean. It was stopped at Niagara Falls until it gained access to Lake Erie, probably by the man-made Welland canal around the falls.

Ask Spawning Reports
Today the sea lamprey has been discovered in all of the Great Lakes. Many fish are killed and others are badly scarred where the parasite fastens itself to the fish with its sucker mouth filled with rows of horny teeth. The lamprey grows to a length of 40 inches.

The Institute of Fisheries Research was assigned the responsibility of carrying out an investigation to discover or develop effective control methods. The Michigan conservation department and similar departments in other states are assisting.

An important part of the investigation this year will be to secure more complete information as to the location and size of the sea lamprey spawning runs. Organizations and groups interested in the problem, including sportsmen, 4-H clubs, Boy Scouts and others are asked to report these runs.

In the Upper Peninsula reports of sea lamprey spawning runs can be made to any conservation officer, who in turn will relay the information to biologists Dexter B.

Reynolds at the state fish hatchery at Thompson, and to Leland Anderson at Watersmeet.

Run In 68 Streams
According to the latest reports, spawning runs now occur in 68 Michigan streams, of which 30 are tributary to northern Lake Michigan, 17 in northern Lake Huron, and 10 tributary to Lake Superior. The latter, however, have not been authenticated. There can be little question that lamprey spawning runs also occur in tributary streams in Ontario, Wisconsin, and other states on the Great Lakes. The first spawning runs in Michigan were observed in the Clinton River near the Macomb-Oakland County line and in the Oquoc River in Presque Isle county in 1938 and 1939.

In cooperation with the East Presque Isle County Sportsmen's Association, a trap was operated on the Oquoc River in 1944, and 1945 in which more than 7,500 lampreys were taken and destroyed. An estimated 30,000 lampreys were destroyed in the spring of 1946 in a privately-operated trap below the dam in the Manistiquie River at Manistiquie.

Start This Month
The upstream spawning migration may take place anytime between April and August, but the peak of the run probably occurs in late May or early June when the water temperature is between 59 and 70 degrees. Nests are hollowed out of gravel areas in from eight to 30 inches of water. The adults attach themselves to stones by means of their sucking mouth for completion of the spawning act, after which the nest is covered. What little information is available indicates a female lamprey, according to size, is capable of deposition from 100,000 to 300,000 eggs. The eggs are adhesive for a short time, adhering to the stones and particles of sand in the nest. It is believed the adults die within a few days after spawning. The eggs hatch in about three weeks. The minute larvae then burrow into the nearest mud or silt bank where they remain for four or five years to change form. When the larva has attained the parasitic stage, it is from six to eight inches long. From this stage it takes from one to three years to mature.

Seek A Solution
In the parasitic stage, it preys principally upon lake trout, although whitefish, walleyed pike, burbot, suckers, and possibly other species also are victims. Fresh lamprey sores and scars from previous sores have to a greater or lesser degree in various parts of the lakes affected the market value of the fish. It is believed that while generally lampreys leave a fish before death occurs, the fish may be so weakened as to die later or be easy prey for other enemies. Two fishermen operating out of Milwaukee in the winter of 1945-1946 claimed to have lifted from 500 to 700 pounds of dead trout washed into gill nets set on grounds occupied by trout during the previous spawning season. The continuous decline the last few years in the commercial production of fish in Lake Huron may be attributed in part at least to the increase of the lamprey.

Without removal of the original source of the invasion, there is no assurance the problem in the upper lakes can be permanently solved. Any effort that will relieve this problem will be costly because of the area of waters and number of spawning streams involved.

More needs to be known concerning the problem, such as how much damage is done to the commercial fisheries, where and when the lamprey spawns, for how long a period it runs, whether it spawns in the Great Lakes, if it dies after spawning, how long the young remain in the spawning area, how long a time is required for hatching and developing in different areas, and at what stage or stages in the life cycle of the animal its numbers can be substantially reduced. These and many other questions need answers before control measures can be planned and applied.

Seven states—Mississippi, California, Nevada, Ohio, Oregon, Tennessee and Washington—have adopted birth cards instead of certificates.

We're Trying to Handle EMERGENCY CALLS

During the Telephone Strike ...

But we must have your co-operation

Before you attempt to place either a Local or Long Distance call, please stop and ask yourself—

IS IT AN EMERGENCY?

DOES THE CALL INVOLVE: FIRE? POLICE? SICKNESS? INJURY? DEATH? LOSS OF PROPERTY?

If it does, your call is an EMERGENCY call and you have reason to attempt to place it. And our limited forces will do their best to handle it.

If your call does NOT involve an emergency, please do NOT attempt to place it.

With only a few people available to man the switchboards during the strike, we must devote our efforts to EMERGENCY CALLS ONLY. It is necessary for us to answer all signals on the switchboards to determine which are emergency calls. So it is imperative that you limit your calls to EMERGENCY CALLS ONLY.

Even so, there still remains the risk that some emergency calls will go unhandled because we just do not have enough people.

Michigan Bell deeply regrets the need for this urgent appeal for your co-operation. We are still trying to settle the strike. Meanwhile, we are doing our best to handle emergency calls. Please help us ...

Ray Rose Resigns Conservation Job

Menominee—Ray L. Rose of 214 Sheridan road yesterday resigned as a state county conservation officer to become manager of the Sport Shop, operated by Walter Stepniak and Earl F. Walk at 703 Sheridan road. Walk is an absentee partner, being in military service overseas.

Stepniak plans expansion of his sporting goods business and will devote his time in developing sales contacts outside the city, leaving management of the shop to Rose.

Except for a leave of absence while he was in U. S. Naval service from July, 1945, to late in 1946, Rose had been with the Department of Conservation since 1941 when he started as a fire towerman at Escanaba, later serving as radio dispatcher and office manager of the department's district office in Escanaba. On Oct. 1, 1943, Rose was transferred to the equipment station at Stephenson and two months later was transferred to Menominee as a conservation officer in this area.

Rose has been an active proponent of conservation education during his service with the state department and has made hundreds of talks before civic, fraternal, church and farm organizations. He was active in organizing the Menominee Junior Conservation club and will continue as a director of this organization. The club's headquarters will continue at the Sport Shop.

Before joining the Department of Conservation in 1941, Rose operated the Delta upholstery shop in Escanaba.

OPA's Protection Of Tenants In '46 Evictions Upheld

BY W. H. MOBLEY

Washington, (AP)—The Supreme Court upheld the OPA Monday in protecting tenants from eviction by reason of last year's price control "Holiday."

There was no rent control law from June 30, 1946, until July 25, when Congress passed the new one. But the Supreme Court ruled that landlords who went to court during that interval and got eviction orders against their tenants cannot enforce those orders now.

It had nothing to say about the status of tenants actually removed from their quarters before the new law was enacted.

The eviction case came up from Texas. Mrs. Frankie Mae Page, J. W. Hughes and Mrs. Sophia Chandler of Fort Worth had obtained State Court eviction orders against tenants during the price control holiday.

The U. S. District Court in Dallas turned down an OPA application for an injunction against enforcement of the dispossession orders. It held that the new price control act, made effective as of June 30 when the old law went out, was unconstitutional insofar as it would prevent landlords from taking advantage of judgments obtained during the holiday.

Justice Reed, writing the opinion for an eight-man majority of the high court, said the general constitutionality of the price control act was not questioned in the action.

Justice Frankfurter, dissenting on technical grounds, held that the matter is one for the Court of Appeals, which had been bypassed by a direct appeal to the Supreme Court.

Blue Baby Cured At Johns Hopkins

Iron Mountain—Terry Bernard, four and one-half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bernard, of Aurora, no longer is a "blue baby." The operation which Terry underwent on April 1 in Johns Hopkins, Baltimore, Md., to correct a malformation of the heart, was a success.

"In the short time which has passed since the operation, Terry is showing more and more characteristics of a normal child," Mrs. Bernard said. "The blue tint is rapidly leaving his body—in fact, it is gone except for a slight tinge around his finger nails. He no longer puffs when he breathes and doesn't require long periods of rest as he did before the operation."

"My husband and I had a very difficult decision to make when we consented to the operation. We are happy we did so. We want the officers of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Disabled Adults and the CIO union, both of which contributed to make the trip and operation possible, to know that we are deeply and everlastingly grateful for their efforts in our behalf. They gave a child—our child—life," Mrs. Bernard said.

Radiant Heating Protects Plants

Ithaca, N. Y.—A radiant heating system, adapted from an idea employed by the Romans 2,000 years ago, is being used here to protect plants in temperatures below freezing.

Cornell University experimenters have used their version of the Roman system to protect plants from injury in temperatures as low as one degree above zero Fahrenheit.

In the experiments, panels constructed of sheets of iron heated by coils of soil-heating cable attached to the outside were placed 18 inches apart. The panels were insulated on the outside so that heat from the cables would be conducted to the panels rather than dissipated into the atmosphere.

Geranium and coleus plants under tests were placed between the panels and numerous readings of the leaf temperatures were taken in comparison with the temperature of the surrounding air.

Plants withstood outdoor temperatures as low as eight degrees Fahrenheit, without any sign of injury until last Feb. 4, when a heavy snowfall caused their death.

New plants were placed between the panels, and a pane of glass laid across the top to protect them from snow and to reduce the amount of heat lost by direct radiation to the cold sky. These plants survived the coldest temperature recorded here, which was one degree above zero.

In Hollywood

BY GENE HANDSAKER
Hollywood—Back in 1874, typewriters were mechanical monsters whose carriage-returns operated by foot treadles, and the pioneering young women who dared invade all-male offices to run them were themselves called "typewriters." Probably the prettiest early typist of all was a fictional Cynthis Pilgrim, known better to you as Betty Grable.

The blond Betty—in bouncing bustles and bulbous vests an odd combination of baby innocence and sexy sophistication—fights the good fight of woman suffrage in 20th Century-Fox's "The Shocking Miss Pilgrim."

Graduated from stenographic school, she gets an $8 a week job with a tradition-trusted Boston shipping firm whose owner, Dick Haymes, and head accountant, Gene Lockhart, scowl on the idea of women in offices.

She takes a room in a boarding house full of Boston-haters reminiscent of the human menagerie in "You Can't Take It With You." A bearded young outcast poet (Allyn Joslyn) deplores "this overcrowded mausoleum they call Boston." A pillboxed young woman (Lillian Bronson) invents words and is rewriting the dictionary.

Triumphphant on her immediate battleground when the men in her office begin wearing their coats and bringing her flowers, Betty joins the suffrage movement led by Anne Revere. Meanwhile, Betty falls in and out of love with Dick.

Sugary but more interesting than most musicals, the picture boasts 10 hitherto unpublished tunes by the late George Gershwin, with lyrics by his surviving brother, Ira.

The painter (James Ellison) alternately pursues Miss Frazee and Gail Patrick. A tunesmith (William Marshall) adores Miss Frazee. Irene Rich is the sweet proprietress of a theatrical boarding house where several of these characters hang out, and former boxer Lou Nova is McLaglen's fire department pal.

Decorated Shades
Give Room Beauty

By NEA Service
You can use tricked-up window shades to add dash or splash to a room as decorators do, and satisfy your artistic urge to paint, draw or paste decals on a functional piece of cotton cambric at the same time.

What's more, the decorated shade that guards privacy at the window can as prettily screen a kitchenette, dressing table, open shelf cabinet or a doorless closet.

Interested in tricks? Let experts of the Window Shade Institute guide your hand.

For any decorating, they say, stretch shade flat on a table top. Unroll it as far as needed for the design. Anchor the folds at each end of the roller with paper clips to keep shade from snapping up while you are working on it.

Autographs on window shades are smart. A child's room is made more fascinating to the young owner if her window shade serves as a party "guest book." Have the small fry attending your child's birthday party "enter" their names with vari-colored crayons on a shade stretched flat for the all-over autographing ritual.

Prettily splashed window shades used in a bedroom can be matched thanks to decorating tricks, with shades that serve other functional purposes in the room. One shade may be used to flip down over a knee hole in a solid-sided dressing table. Another shade may be used to curtain an open closet.

Use the same decorative design for all shades. Experts suggest giant roses as motifs to be stenciled and textile-painted on the fabric of each.

If you work with decals—ideal for bordering shades with fruit or flower motifs—use rubber cement for pasting on designs. The cement backing will allow for the flexing of shades that must go up and down.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. John E. King of Rockport, Mass., are the parents of a daughter, Judith Marie, born April 2, at St. Luke's hospital in Chicago. The baby, who weighed six pounds and four ounces at birth, is the second child in the family. The King's first baby is a son, Jerry, who is three and one-half years old. Mrs. King is the former Julianne Earle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Earle of this city. The Kings have now returned to their home in Rockport.

Adjust Ironing Board To Height
BY VIVIAN BROWN
It's the height of your ironing board and not the amount of ironing you have to do that causes fatigue and poor posture, according to a Cornell University study.

No one board is suitable to every individual, so Mrs. Housewife who finds her ironing day a tiring chore may find that adjusting her ironing board will solve her difficulties. If she prefers to stand, she should set the board so that the palms of the hands may be placed flat upon its surface with allowance made for a slight bend of the elbows.

Many women prefer to sit down to the ironing task and this method reduces fatigue. Remember you can also save your energy and do a better job by taking a few brief moments out to relax occasionally.

Here are a few tricks to make the job easier:
1. Have the right kind of iron to start you right. New irons are lighter-in-weight, have comfortable-grip handles and precision-built heat regulators for exact ironing temperatures. One of the latest is the cordless electric iron. If your iron is an old one make sure you keep it in A-1 condition.

2. Choose a bright, cheerful room for the ironing. Set up your board in the living or dining room. Pull up the shades, tune in your radio, and sit down. If you can, use either a chair or kitchen stool. If you stand, wear flat shoes.

3. Save needless steps by adopting an "assembly line" technique. Place a basket holding dampened clothes on a chair within easy reach to your left. As you iron each piece, hang it on a clothes-rack, or lay it on a table within arms length to your right.

4. Iron fabrics that require "low heat" first. They include rayons, silks, satins and crepes. By the time the iron reaches the temperature for which it has been set—you'll have finished a slip or a blouse.

5. Save larger pieces such as sheets, pillowcases, and tablecloths until last. And just forget about bath-towels, knit underwear, jerseys, and corduroys—they don't have to be ironed—merely folded or hung for storing away.

6. You don't have to use the same amount of arm pressure on each piece of material. Ease up once in a while. And never iron over buttons, hooks or zippers—iron around them. If habit dictates using short, jerky ironing strokes, switch to easy sweeping motions. Every waste motion saved—saves you.

Latin Americans
Cheer Expedition
Of Las Muchachas

BY GENE HANDSAKER
Hollywood—Friendly mobs besieged them everywhere. They met presidents, governors, mayors. One enthusiastic spectator fired three pistol shots, and a 13-year-old boy tried to run away with them.

All in all, six Goldwyn Girls' two-month good-will tour of Latin America was an exhausting but large success.

I lurked, spy-like, on the sidelines as the gorgeous emissaries, just off the train, walked into Sam Goldwyn's office and reported back to their boss. The gray-haired producer glowed all over as he told them:

"I'm proud of you. I've wonderful reports from South America. You're the best ambassadors I've ever had."

There was Lorraine de Rone, 21, formerly of Seattle, who brandished her shoe to battle her way through a Bogota crowd.

Karen Gaylord, 22, from Minneapolis, was followed into a beauty parlor in the same town by a throng that stood and watched her have her hair washed.

Brunette Mary Ellen Gleason, 22, Roberts, Ill., was similarly escorted by two policemen and 200 townspeople right up to the altar in a Bogota church.

Cyclists Warned To Observe Rules Of The Road Here

Munising—Chief of Police Urban Trombley yesterday issued a warning to all cyclists that the city ordinance governing the operation of bicycles is still in effect. It specifically states persons riding bicycles on streets within city limits shall observe all traffic rules.

As part of his warning, the chief listed the following "Do's and Don'ts" for the cyclists:

Register your bicycle with the city clerk. This will aid police in recovering your bicycle if it should be stolen or lost.

Properly equip your bicycle with a rear reflector, head light, and horn or bell.

Don't park your bicycle by laying it on the street or sidewalk, but stand it along the curb or a building where it will not be obstructing traffic.

Don't ride on sidewalks and don't ride more than two abreast on the street.

Don't ride double.

Stebler To Head Local Rotarians

Munising—A. M. Stebler was appointed president of the Munising Rotary club for the ensuing year during a meeting of the club Tuesday. He succeeds Dr. G. B. Wickstrom.

Other officers delegated to take office are: Howard Norton, vice president; and incumbents, Dr. Glenn Baxter, treasurer, and John Keeton, secretary. The men will assume office July 1.

Communication

(Editors Note—Limit communications to 300 words. Letters must bear signature and address. Names must be published.) Dear Editor:

"Present operations are ahead of schedule. After broadening the base of study for a community sociological monograph, I find that the famous statement of Floyd Starr, founder of STARR COMMONWEALTH, that there are no 'bad' boys is still true. Home conditions and environmental influences, community social milieu and that vast interplay of social forces for good and evil at work in every community are back of so-called adult and juvenile delinquency."

"If we can sit back complacently after the June term of circuit court when three youths are tried for breaking and entering in the nighttime and give our approval of a sentence like 'Justice has been done and it's a good thing that they got what they did' or any of its near relatives in a semantic sense, then it's high time that we understood which individuals and groups are responsible for the existence of 'certain negative conditions' in the community in which we reside. We know that all of our social criminals and all others who may at times take questionable pride on what they are able to get away with and not get caught are not in jail cells or removed to institutions outside the pale of conventional society."

"Social ostracism, rumors, derogatory references are all negative by-products of almost all social reform movements whether carried on by groups or individuals."

"I am not surprised that I am PERSONA NON GRATA with some persons and groups in Munising at the present time, however the bar of enlightened public opinion has a great heritage in America."

Rev. E. H. Soderberg
Lynn Street
Munising, Mich.

CANCELS VISIT

Munising—Wheelock B. Chamberlain, representative of the Federal old age survivors insurance agency, Social Security Board, Marquette, will not visit the local MSES office until after July 1.

Persons who had appointments with Mr. Chamberlain this week are requested to contact the local MSES office for further details.

FISH CONTEST

Munising—Persons in the vicinity of Munising who desire to enter the 1947 Fishing Contest sponsored by the Escanaba Daily Press may obtain entry blanks at the branch office of the Daily Press located in the Cowell building, Munising.

First college course in electrical engineering was instituted at Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1895.

Alice Richmond Becomes Bride Of John Norlin

Munising—Miss Alice Opal Richmond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Richmond, Chatham, became the bride of John Norlin, son of Mrs. Ellen Norlin, 316 West Onota street, Munising, in a ceremony performed at the home of the bride's parents at Chatham, Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock.

The couple spoke their vows before the Rev. Herman Larson, pastor of the Eben Lutheran church, Munising.

Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Norlin, Munising, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

Following the ceremony, a wedding dinner for 25 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents. A large cake topped with the traditional miniature bride and groom, constituted the centerpiece of the table.

The couple left on a week's wedding trip to Chicago and Lansing and upon their return will make their home in Chatham.

The bride is a graduate of Eben high school and is employed by her father in the Richmond Oil Company office at Chatham. The bridegroom is a graduate of Mather high school, Munising, and served with the Marine air corps as a lieutenant during World War II.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Mrs. Ellen Norlin, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Dott, Mr. and Mrs. Cluen Malone and Mr. and Mrs. Ward Bennett, all of Munising.

MUNISING BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stathatis and son, Charles, and his fiancée, Miss Julia Stathatis, all of California, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Bouth.

Out-of-town persons who attended the funeral of Phillip Liephart Tuesday, returned yesterday. They are: Mr. and Mrs. August Bley, Mrs. Mimi Herbst, Miss Bernice Herbst, Ernest and Paul Herbst, all of Egg Harbor, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hempel and Mrs. Louis Herbst of Sturgeon Bay, Wis.

Mrs. David Erickson is visiting relatives and friends in Escanaba.

Among Munising residents who attended the Orpheus Choral concert in Escanaba Tuesday evening were the Misses Evelyn and Betty Ebbeson, Mrs. Verne Gatiss, the Misses Frieda Swartz and Ann Lundquist and Mrs. Ernest Bother.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Becker, Sault Ste. Marie; Mr. and Mrs. John Toebe and daughter, Joanne, Lansing, attended the Phillip Liephart funeral Tuesday and will leave for their homes today.

Chemical Method Determines Rocks Good For Concrete

Phoenix, Ariz.—Strong rocks do not always make good concrete, and weak rocks do not always cause deterioration, the American Society of Civil Engineers was told here today by R. F. Blanks of the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation. Chemical tests of the rocks, he indicated are necessary.

He described a research project now nearing completion in the Bureau's laboratories which has evolved a quick chemical procedure which provides a degree of assurance against misbehavior of the rock used in concrete as an aggregate, or filler, when in company with the other ingredients used.

Present standard tests, he said, are designed to determine the quality of aggregate as rock, not as a component of concrete. The difficulty is the concept that strong and durable rock necessarily contributes to strength and durability in concrete, and that weak rocks directly contribute to unsoundness.

Social

Alm-Fleming

Miss Margaret Alm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Alm, 1304 Lake Shore Drive, city, and George Fleming, son of Mr. and Mrs. Caleb Fleming, Pinnebog, Mich., were united in marriage on April 19, at 7:30 p. m. in the Brethren of Christ church, Highland Park, Mich., by Rev. O. P. Eastman.

White snapdragons decorated the church for the ceremony. The traditional wedding marches were played by Mrs. Melvin Keller. While the guests were assembling "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly" were sung by Orville Keller.

Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. William Lloyd.

For her wedding the bride chose a powder blue gabardine suit with navy accessories complemented by a shoulder corsage of gardenias and sweet peas. Her only jewelry was a wrist watch, a gift of the groom.

The attendant, Mrs. Lloyd, was attired in a blue suit with black accessories and wore a shoulder corsage of pink carnations.

The bride's mother wore a pearl grey suit with black accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations, and the groom's mother was attired in black and her corsage consisted of white carnations.

Ushers were James Cooper and James Fleming, cousins of the bridegroom.

A reception was held at 186 Glendale in Highland Park, for relatives and friends.

The newlyweds visited in Gladstone with her parents on their honeymoon.

The bride graduated from Gladstone high school in 1941 and has been employed as a cashier in Vickers Cafeteria for the past four and one-half years.

The bride is a graduate of the Pinnebog high school, class of 1938, and served for five years in the U. S. Army. They will make their home in Pinnebog where the groom is employed.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Alm, parents of the bride, and Mrs. Ole Augustson, Gladstone; Mrs. Glenn Clark, Flint; Mrs. Charles Fleming and Jimmy and Judy, and Mrs. Caleb Fleming, Pinnebog.

Tommy's Party

Tommy Sepic, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Sepic, 1207 Wisconsin avenue, entertained at a theater party on Sunday afternoon in honor of his seventh birthday. A birthday lunch was served at Tommy's home after attendance at the theater. A large birthday cake centered the table. Those present were Lynn Vanders, Jackie Sepic, Tommy Belanger, Larry Sunblad, Sherman ReRosh, Norbert Sebeck, Elwood Erickson, Beverly Timler, and Tommy's little sister, Joanne.

POPPY SALE APPEAL MADE

Funds Secured Helps
Local Causes Says
Chairman

Mrs. Alex Cooper, chairman of the Child Welfare committee of the American Legion, announces the annual poppy sale May 23 and 24, and states there is more to these poppies than mere sentiment.

"Children yet unborn when World War battles were fought, will be aided by poppies which honor dead of World Wars I and II," said Mrs. Cooper, adding, "Much of the Auxiliary's work for welfare of veterans' children is financed by Poppy Day contributions."

Mrs. Cooper explains, children whose fathers have died or have become disabled as result of war service are increasing in number and many of them need help. The work which the Auxiliary always has carried on for welfare of veterans' children must be expanded to meet their needs. This work has often touched directly into Manistique families, and local funds secured have always gone to needy and worthy purposes.

Local Auxiliary members who sold these poppies and administered funds are all volunteer workers. It has been a work of love for the organization and for those who have been served. The experience gained through the years has stood them in good stead.

Money contributed for poppies remains largely in the area where they are sold and will be used for rehabilitation of disabled veterans and also for emergency relief in their behalf. It will also be expended for child welfare needs.

"For that reason," says Mrs. Cooper, "when we honor the war dead by wearing the poppy we also aid their comrades who are disabled and the children who because of the war are left without their father's support."

BOUND FOR WAKEFIELD—Eight Manistique bowling teams participated in the Upper Michigan Bowling tournament at Wakefield Saturday and Sunday. Twenty members of various teams chose to make the trip by bus and are here shown as they set out on their trip.

Saturday morning. Teams represented at the tournament are M&M Service, Blatz Finlanders, Christy's Bar, Ekberg's Tavern, Estrens Cattle Rustlers, Barnes Hotel, Fuller Brush and the Manistique Tool and Manufacturing Company. (Photo by Bradley)

STRIKE AVERTED AT PORT INLAND

Union Accepts Raise Of 10 Cents An Hour In New Contract

There will be no strike at Port Inland.

Members of Local 377, International Mine, Mill and Smelters Union, held an election Wednesday, and by a vote of 109 to 88 voted to accept an Inland Lime and Stone company offer increasing wages 10 cents an hour, effective at once. The new contract will remain in force until Jan. 1, 1948, and the union reserves the right to reopen negotiations 90 days prior to the expiration date.

By agreement between the company and union, the plant at Port Inland was idle Wednesday, giving all members of the union an opportunity to vote at the election in Manistique, and four-fifths of the membership took advantage of the opportunity. Union officers are requesting employees to return to their regular shifts today.

Negotiations on the Inland Lime and Stone Co. contract had been under way for some time, with the union asking a 12½ cent hourly increase, along with six holidays a year.

The union negotiating committee, company officials and Gene Saari, representative of the international union, will hold a meeting at 10 a. m. today to ratify the terms of the agreement.

Local Plans For Girl Scout Camp To Be Discussed

Parents, interested in Timber Trail Camp for their older daughters and Brownie Day Camp for the younger ones, will be able to obtain first hand information at the meeting of Lincoln PTA this evening at 8 o'clock in the school gymnasium.

Mrs. Earl LeBrasseur, local Girl Scout commissioner, will speak about these two camps and any personal information may be had after the meeting.

The program for this meeting will be presented by members of the Lincoln school Intermediate Girl Scout Troop under the leadership of Mrs. Edward MacLean and Miss E. Mikulich and the Brownie Troop whose leaders are Mrs. Gertrude Dewey, Mrs. Richard Abrahamsen and Mrs. Vilas Young.

A short business meeting will follow the program and refreshments will be served by the kindergarten room mothers.

Invitation is extended to all interested in this type of program to attend.

DRAFT BOARD IS NO MORE

Local Selective Service
Office Terminates Activities

The Schoolcraft county office of selective service is now a memory.

With termination of selective service by Congress, Mrs. Ray Bessner, in charge of the office for the past year, was instructed to wind up its affairs and Wednesday saw the completion of this duty.

Selective service had its inception before the Pearl Harbor incident in 1941 and those assigned positions on the draft board accepted responsibilities few would envy, but the complaints of favoritism, heard in so many places throughout the country, were conspicuous by their absence in Schoolcraft county.

Members of the board were Arthur Hall, chairman; Ray Prime, Otto Winkel, Tom Wilson and Ira Crawford.

The local data, which is being forwarded to Lansing, is a voluminous mass of records, all of which had to be labeled with four tags, Mrs. Bessner states. Some details may yet have to be attended to, but the office, to all intents and purposes, is closed.

DISCUSS CUB SCOUTING HERE

Scout Executive Urges Greater Interest In Movement

Prospects for organizing a Cub Scout program were sounded in Manistique Tuesday by R. L. Thompson, Hiawatha Council Scout executive of Marquette, who conducted a meeting in the basement of the First Methodist church.

Particularly invited to the meeting were parents of boys of between twelve and nine, to whom Mr. Thompson explained the workings of the Cub Scout organization and the part parents will be called upon to play. He also showed a film, "The Cub in the Home," to help amplify his message.

Cubbing is a home centered program, he stated, and there is little use starting unless the parents show a willingness to go ahead.

He plans holding two more meetings, the next of which will be Tuesday, May 13. He states frankly that more interest than was evident at Tuesday's meeting, when a mere handful of parents attended, will have to be shown before he would advise the launching of an organization. He adds, however, that if the public was fully aware of the great good Cub Scouting can do for growing youngsters, there would be strong demand for a unit in Manistique.

Rev. Cowdrick Will Attend Party Held In Father's Honor

The Rev. Harold Cowdrick and family will leave Friday for Marquette to attend birthday anniversary observances in honor of his father, H. B. Cowdrick, veteran weather observer at Marquette, who has been chief of Marquette weather bureau station for 14 years.

The elder Mr. Cowdrick retired from his post with the weather bureau and will leave soon for his old home in Ohio. The observance will therefore be a farewell. During his residence in Marquette he was active in Masonic circles and Methodist church activities of that city.

Happy Doesn't Seem To Worry Larry MacPhail

New York, April 30 (AP)—An uncontrite Larry MacPhail ate a hearty meal today and prepared to take off for Cincinnati, where early tomorrow he is slated to appear before Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler and, presumably, answer charges of "insubordination."

The president of the Yankees, talking with newsmen before a luncheon gathering at which he spoke against juvenile delinquency, left a strong impression that he didn't intend to back down an inch in anything he had said since Manager Leo Durocher of the Brooklyn Dodgers drew a year's suspension from the commissioner.

"Why should I feel contrite?" he demanded.

"I repeat what I said last week in Newark—that so far any evidence developed at the Saratoga and St. Petersburg hearings is concerned, there was nothing to justify even a five-minute suspension of Durocher."

BUMS FINALLY LOSE ONE, 3-1

Thanks To Nicholson's Ninth Frame Homer, Cubs Tip Dodgers

Brooklyn, April 30 (AP)—Bill Nicholson's two-run homer in the ninth inning, that bounced among the cars in a parking lot some 400 feet from home plate, gave Rookie Doyle Lade and the Chicago Cubs a tight 3-1 victory today that snapped Brooklyn's six game win streak.

The burly Cub slugger had been unable to lift any of Ralph Branca's pitches out of the infield until he connected for his third home run of the year after Bob Scheffing singled with two out in the ninth.

CARDS SINK DEEPER
New York, April 30 (AP)—The New York Giants shoved the World Champion St. Louis Cardinals deeper into the National League's cellar today by coming from behind with two runs in the ninth inning to chalk up a 4-3 triumph over the hapless Red Birds.

Sid Gordon drove in the tying and winning runs by doubling off relief hurler Ted Wilks with two out to hand the Cards their seventh straight setback.

PIRATES UNCORK 16 HITS
Philadelphia, April 29 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates unleashed their bats against Tommy Hughes and Blix Donnelly today soaked them for 16 hits, including Clyde Klutts' first home run of the season, and defeated the Philadelphia Phillies, 11 to 4, before 6,578.

Frank Gustine who has hit in 12 consecutive games led the attack with four singles. Klutts was close behind with a single, triple and home run that drove in four tallies.

Pittsburgh . . . 000 014 033—11 16 1

BRAVES CLUB REDS
Boston, April 30 (AP)—Clubbing Cincinnati pitching for 15 hits, the Boston Braves today submerged the Reds 10-3 for their sixth victory in seven home games.

Johnny Sain struck out 10 Rhinelanders and gave up but six hits as he registered his second win.

One of the blows off Johnny was a home run into the right field "jury box" bleachers by Grady Hatton in the first inning which also scored Bob Adams who had scratched an infield single.

St. Louis, April 30 (AP)—President Sam Breadon of the St. Louis Cardinals, admitting he is disappointed with the showing of the club this season, departed late today by air for New York where he intends to confer with Manager Eddie Dyer.

"I can't understand what's wrong," the usually taciturn Breadon said before he left. "It's virtually the same club that won the pennant and world series last year. It looked good in spring training and it's hard to figure out what has happened. I'm not enjoying it at all."

The Cards lost their ninth game in eleven starts to the New York Giants today. They are in last place, six full games behind the league-leading Dodgers.

SOFTBALL PRACTICE
The Coca-Cola defeated the XGI Batteries, 6 and 2, in a practice softball game at Escanaba last night.

Newhouser Chased In Ninth; Tiges Bow, 7-1

Detroit, April 30 (AP)—Getting classy four-hit pitching from their Rookie Southpaw Mel Parnell, the Boston Red Sox won their first game in five starts today, chasing Hal Newhouser to his third straight defeat with an 11-hit assault that beat the Detroit Tigers, 7 to 1.

While Parnell was facing only 31 batters in achieving his first major league triumph, another Boston rookie, Right Fielder Stan Mele, took a major role in making it easy for him.

Mele batted in four runs with a triple and two singles and Ted Williams and Ed Pellagrini, subbing at shortstop while Johnny Pesky is out with a cold, each had three singles.

Bobby Doerr, regular Red Sox second baseman, missed the game with an elbow injury, suffered earlier in the afternoon when he was struck by a practice pitch of Teammate Joe Dobson.

Newhouser, who won 26 last year, was batted out for the third straight time in the ninth inning and hasn't won since opening day.

Wolverine Golfers Defeat Spartans
Ann Arbor, Mich., April 30 (AP)—Michigan golfers today scored a 23-13 victory over Michigan State here as Wolverine Ed Schaloun claimed medal honors for the second straight day. Schaloun had a 73.

The Wolverines will journey to Evanston Saturday for a Big Nine dual match with Northwestern.

NEW BASEBALL LOOP FORMED

Garden, Rapid River Enter To Complete 8-Team Circuit

A new eight-team baseball league consisting of teams representing Cooks, Nahma, Rock, Fayette, Little Lake, Garden, Perkins and Rapid River has been organized with Eddie (Bud) Gibbs, Perkins manager, elected as commissioner and head of the loop.

By-laws and rules were adopted at the organization meeting. The schedule will be drawn and other business matters ironed out at the next session to be held Sunday afternoon, May 11, beginning at 3, in the Perkins Village Inn.

George Roberts, manager of the Cooks team, was elected secretary-treasurer. Managers of other teams who will serve as directors are Vic Tebo, Nahma; Les Maki, Rock; Herb Pozzala, Fayette; Leo Brown, Little Lake; Joseph Deloria, Garden, and Bob Patterson, Rapid River.

Play will start the first Sunday in June, Commissioner Gibbs announced yesterday. A double round robin, 14 games in all, will be played.

"Garden and Rapid River entered to complete the eight-team circuit," Gibbs said. "They have considerable organization work to do to be ready for opening day, but all other teams in the circuit are practically ready to go. Little Lake, for instance, had a team last season and will go into action with practically the same aggregation."

'Unfair Labor' Charge Against Three Ball Clubs

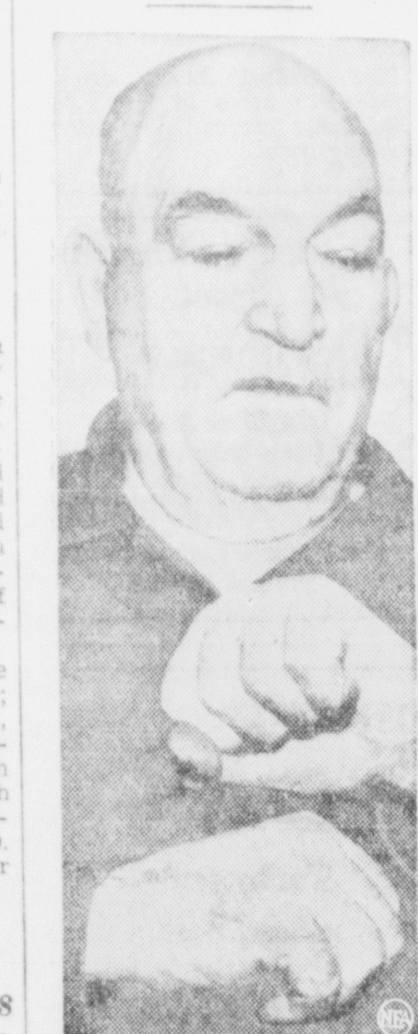

New York, April 30 (AP)—The New York State Labor Relations board has issued a complaint of unfair labor practices against the New York Yankees, Giants and the Brooklyn Dodgers, the board chairman, the Rev. William J. Kelley, said tonight.

The complaint, Father Kelley said, followed a preliminary investigation conducted by the board as a result of charges filed by Robert Murphy, Boston attorney and labor relations director of the American Baseball Guild.

The complaint alleges that the baseball clubs "initiated, dominated, interfered with and contributed to" the support and formation of a players' committee and "have interfered with, restrained and coerced the players in the exercise of their rights to self-organization and to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing," Father Kelley said.

The chairman said a hearing has been scheduled for June 4. The complaint further charges that the "committee or employees representation plan" is a "company union within the meaning" of the state labor relations act.

ALMA GOLFERS WIN
Alma, Mich., April 30 (AP)—Alma college golfers defeated Central Michigan 16 to 11 in a collegiate match at Pine River today as Wally Moore of Alma and Mickey Milham of Central shared medal honors with 77s.

FANS WILL SEE JUNIOR BOXERS

Doubleheader Program Will Be Presented Monday Night

Junior boxers from Manistique, Munising, Marinette and Escanaba will compete in the Silver Gloves tournament which will be the first part of a doubleheader boxing program at the junior high school gymnasium next Monday evening, May 5.

Lads from Marinette who will be paired in the tourney include George Mudrock, 60 lbs., Ron Mudrock, 80 lbs., and Benny Palsinski, 85 lbs. Junior boxers from Marinette are Glen Perry, Delbert Mercier and Leonard Fox. Perry weighs 90 lbs., Mercier 99 lbs. and Fox 138 lbs. The Manistique entries have not yet been received, but Manistique has indicated it will send a scrappy team.

Escanaba junior lads have been in training for several weeks under the direction of Jerome DeLoria and more than a dozen local youngsters will be paired on the show. The junior lads will box two rounds of one minute each, except in the youngest age category of 10-11 years, who will swing at each other for only one round.

In the second phase of the program, senior boxers from Escanaba, Manistique, Marquette and Marinette will be paired in a bill that promises plenty of leather tossing and excitement.

Tickets for the boxing card, sanctioned by the Michigan AAU, went on sale yesterday and the opening day's sale was unusually brisk. Only slightly more than 300 reserved chair seats will be available for the ringside customers.

Guests At Dinner Here This Evening

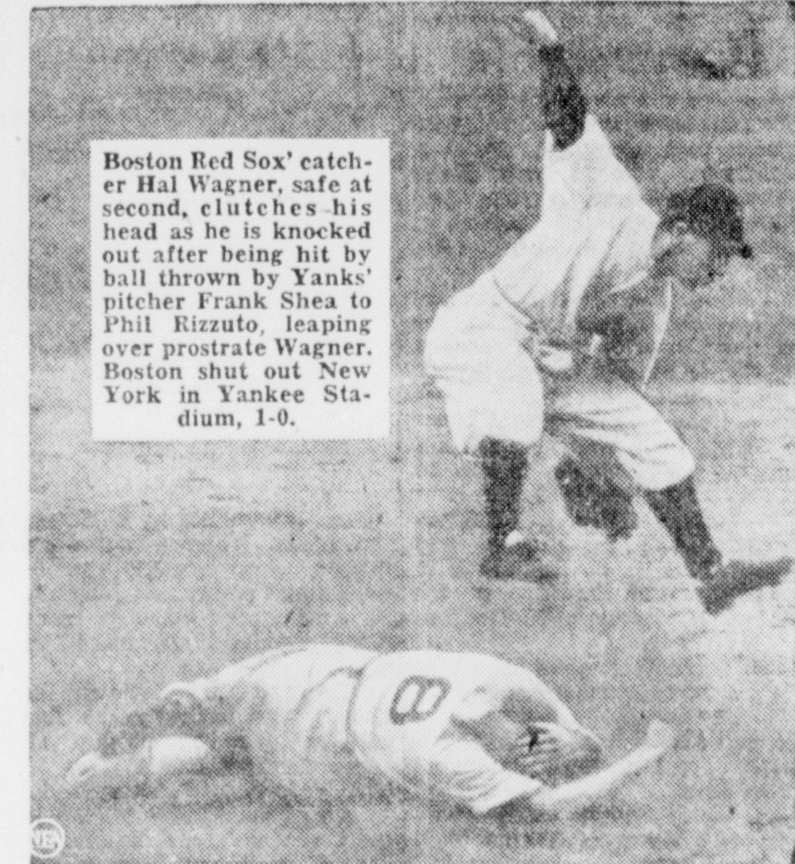

A "recognition" dinner for all players and managers who participated in the Escanaba city basketball tournament will be served in the Sherman hotel at 7 this evening, George Grenholm, city recreation director, announced yesterday.

Trophies will be awarded after the dinner.

Government standards have been developed for the grading and standardization of beef sold at retail. If meat has been Federally graded the grade stamp is found on all the main cuts.

Eggs improve with time, according to some Chinese. Pickled eggs are a delicacy, eaten raw with a piece of vinegar-cured ginger.

Alger Softball League Ready For May 30 Start

Chatham, April 29—With the opening games set for May 20 and the first round slated to end June 17, ten teams in the Alger county softball league are ready to play!

The 10 teams and their respective managers are Benny's Bar, Munising, Francis Lincoln, Tremont, Leonard Letikangas, Traunuk, Louis Carr; Au Train, LaMont and Thomas; Slapneck.

By-laws were drawn at a recent meeting. At the next session, three commissioners will be selected. Each team will pay a $5 entry fee, the money to be used to purchase a championship trophy.

The schedule for opening day, May 20, follows: Benny's Bar vs. Tremont; Traunuk—Au Train, Maki's Service—Slapneck; Co-op Red Owls and Paper Mill vs. Eben.

The next meeting will be held May 9 in the Chatham town hall, beginning at 8. Team rosters, with a 15-player limit, will be turned in at that time, and each team will select at least one umpire to be approved by the commissioners.

Eskymo Nine Will Play 8-Game Slate; Miners Here Friday

Escanaba high school baseball fans will see the first of five home games tomorrow afternoon when the Eskymos tangle with the Negaunee Miners on the city diamond. The game will start at 4:15.

The Eskymos opened in Iron Mountain Tuesday with a 4-3 loss to the Mountaineers. They collected eight hits but left 10 men stranded on bases, lacking the punch to bring them in.

An eight game schedule this season, six more than last year, has been announced by Coach Jim Rouman, who today planned to drill his cohorts with "more of the same"—batting, fielding and fundamentals—in preparation for the Miner clash.

The seven remaining games follow: May 2, Negaunee, here; May 5, St. Joseph's, here; May 16, Iron Mountain, here; May 19, Negaunee, there; May 22, Kingsford, here; May 26, St. Joseph's, here; and June 2, Kingsford, there. All games will start at 4:15, EST.

Last season the Eskymos split with Iron Mountain, winning away and losing at home.

Duck Season Length Depends On Weather

Chicago, April 30 (AP)—The length of the fall duck hunting season will depend on the weather from now on, the first of a series of regional conferences sponsored by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service decided today.

"We've had a good spring runoff of waters," Harry D. Ruhl, Michigan state game commissioner, said. "But if the nesting grounds dry out, the duck will get caught, and the season will have to be curtailed."

IRISH NINE TIPS IOWA
South Bend, Ind., April 30 (AP)—Notre Dame bunched all its runs in the sixth inning to defeat Iowa's baseball team 3-2 today in the first game of a two-day series.

An outfield fly by Ray Petzelka brought Tom Sheehan in for the winning run after Sheehan's triple had scored Jack Mayo, who had walked, and Charles Wolf, who singled.

Harrington, 1911 Tiger Hurler, Dies
Haverhill, Mass., April 30 (AP)—Joseph E. Harrington, 60, pitcher with the Detroit Tigers in 1911, died at his home today of a heart ailment.

A former Haverhill high school baseball coach and science teacher, he had played for a time with the Washington Senators and with a number of minor league clubs, including the Lynn team of the old New England league.

After World War I, he went to Serbia with a Red Cross mission to fight typhoid and was cited by the Serbian government for his efforts.

He leaves his widow and a son.

AGED RESIDENT OF GARDEN DIES

Mrs. Lemirand, 90, Lived
In Community For
85 Years

Mrs. Elizabeth Lemirand, 90, of Garden, died at her home at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday after an illness of two years brought on by the infirmities of old age. She was born at Mackinac Island Oct. 16, 1856, came to Garden when she was five years old, and lived there continually up to the time of her death. She was a member of St. John's Baptist church and of the Altar Society.

Survivors include the husband, Edward, one son and four daughters: Mrs. John Rasmussen, Garden; Mrs. Bert Campbell, Marinette; Lena Larson, Sheboygan, Wis.; Mrs. Asa Tatro, St. Ignace; William Lemirand, Manistique; 41 grandchildren; 68 great-grandchildren; eight great-great-grandchildren.

The body was brought to the Alto funeral home and will be returned to the family home Friday at 2 p.m. Funeral services will be held Saturday at 9 a.m. at St. John's church in Garden with the Rev. Fr. Arnold Thompson officiating. Burial will be in the new Garden cemetery.

Senate Committee Urged To Approve Tax Cutting Now

Washington, April 30 (P)—The National Association of State Chambers of Commerce joined a growing parade of witnesses today in urging the Senate finance committee to approve income tax reductions.

James F. Stiles, Jr., of Chicago, representing the association, said economic conditions call for a tax cut now, rather than in 1948 or 1949.

Stiles told the committee that prompt action would lessen the risk of a recession.

The committee is considering a bill already passed by the House which would give most taxpayers reductions of 20 to 30 per cent retroactive to last Jan. 1. Treasury officials estimate the measure would lower the individual income tax burden nearly $4,000,000,000.

Killer Of Deputy Hunted By Posse In Reno District

Reno, Nev., April 30 (P)—Armed posse with "shoot to kill" orders scoured a two-state area about Reno today for the killer of a deputy sheriff in a midnight encounter last night.

While checking a car in the sagebrush-covered hills near Reno, deputy Earl Griffith, 48, was shot and killed by one of two men in the vehicle, and Deputy Tom Lamb, 34, was seriously wounded.

A few hours after the shooting Larry Gene Yancy, 17, San Diego, Calif., surrendered to Army officers at the Reno Army Air Base and was booked at the Washoe county jail here for investigation of robbery.

Sheriff Ray Root quoted Yancy as saying his 22-year-old companion had done the shooting. Root said the companion had fled into the hills after the shooting.

Resort Destroyed At Walloon Lake In $150,000 Fire

Bozette City, Mich., April 30 (P)—Fire which started in the basement of the Thomas House at Walloon Lake today destroyed the 40-year-old summer resort, an annex and a guest house.

Firemen from Petoskey, aided by conservation department workers from Bozette City, brought the blaze under control after a battle of several hours.

Resort owners at the lake said the loss probably would exceed $150,000. The present owner of the Thomas House is Loren C. Thomas who was making preparations for his 25th season.

That Wasn't His Gum, Garner Says

Uvalde, Tex., April 30 (P)—John Nance Garner said today it isn't so. Those venerable wads of chewing gum under the senate president's desk aren't holdovers from his gavel-wielding days in Washington as vice president.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) told Senator Flanders (R-Vt.) who explored the desk's under-surface and found the relics while presiding yesterday, that "they belong to 'Cactus' Jack Garner."

Automobile Strike Brings New Crisis For French Cabinet

Paris, April 30 (P)—France's coalition cabinet hit a crisis tonight over labor policy, brought to a head by a strike of automobile workers.

The five Communist members abruptly walked out of a cabinet meeting today at which Socialists and members of the Popular Republican Movement (MRP) had balked at granting raises to the strikers, on grounds that increases would disrupt the government's wage-freezing and price-lowering program.

U. P. BUREAU'S BOOTH IS BUSY—The Upper Peninsula Development Bureau booth was bustling with activity at the ninth annual Daily News Travel Exposition in Chicago during the nine-day run which ended Sunday, April 27.

Delta, Iron Bar Units Vigorously Oppose Bill For 2nd Judge In 25th

Bar Associations of Delta and Iron counties have vigorously gone on record in opposition to a bill recently introduced in the state legislature which would provide for a second judge in the 25th judicial circuit in addition to Judge - Elect Glenn W. Jackson, who will succeed Judge Frank Bell at the expiration of the latter's term at the end of 1947.

In a resolution forwarded to Governor Kim Sigler, state senators and legislators and presidents of Bar Associations of Menominee, Dickinson, Iron and Marquette counties, the Delta county unit pointed out that "during its 65-year history the business of courts of the 25th judicial circuit has been capably and expeditiously handled by one circuit judge" and that "it has never been necessary for the presiding judge to call in other judges to handle the work."

Emphasize High Cost
The resolution also asserted that "the proposed bill would cost the taxpayers of the state $7,000 for the salary of a second circuit judge, plus $4,200 for the salary of a second court reporter, and would cost the five counties of the 25th judicial circuit approximately $6,500 * * * as a supplement to the salary paid by the state."

There is "no basis in fact" for the statement of the proponent of such proposed legislation that "there is a pressing need in this circuit for a second judge because of the population and size of this circuit," it was declared.

The Iron county association, in its resolution, registered its "protest, objection and amazement to this unnecessary and unsound move, which may be, and probably is, purely political in its nature."

Two Resolutions
The resolutions follow: Whereas, a bill providing for an additional judge for the 25th judicial circuit has been recently introduced into the legislature of the state of Michigan at Lansing; and

Whereas, during its sixty-five year history the business of the courts of the 25th judicial circuit has been capably and expeditiously handled by one circuit judge, who, while busy, has not been overburdened by work; and

Whereas, it is believed that judges who are kept reasonably well occupied with judicial business, develop into more capable judges, as is evidenced by the consistently high caliber of the judges who have served in this circuit, four of the five judges of this circuit having been elevated to the Supreme Court of the State of Michigan, where they served with distinction; and

Whereas, in recent years, due to the increase in the number of administrative tribunals and the changes in the economic life of this locality, there has been a substantial decrease in the volume of the cases handled by the circuit judge of the 25th judicial circuit; and

Whereas, it has never been necessary for the presiding judge to call in other judges to handle the work of this circuit, except infrequently, in cases of illness, and rarely where the court was disqualified by litigation, and the circuit judge of this circuit, in addition to his own work has, from time to time held court in other circuits of the state, to aid in relieving congestion in such other circuits; and

Whereas, the proposed bill would cost the taxpayers of the state seven thousand dollars for the salary of a second circuit judge, plus forty-two hundred dollars for the salary of a second court reporter, and would cost the five counties of the 25th judicial circuit, approximately sixty-five hundred dollars, this sum representing the amount presently to be paid by the five counties, as a supplement to the salary paid by the state; and

Whereas, the proposed legislation has not arisen out of dissatisfaction with the present one-man judge system, there being no demand, either by the people of the district, or by the members of the bar of the five counties of this circuit, for such proposed legislation; and

Whereas, the proponent of such proposed legislation, has declared there is a pressing need in this circuit for a second judge, because of the population and size of this circuit; there is no basis in fact for such statement. Now therefore, be it resolved, that the Bar Association of Delta County go on record as opposing the passage of said legislation, and

Be it further resolved, that the secretary of the Bar Association be directed to forward copies of this resolution to the Honorable Kim Sigler, Governor of the State of Michigan, to the members of the Senate of the State of Michigan, to the members of the Legislature of the State of Michigan and the presidents of the Bar Associations of the Counties of Menominee, Dickinson, Iron and Marquette.

Delta County Bar Association
Whereas, a bill has been introduced in our legislature to divide or to add an additional judge for the 25th judicial circuit, and

Whereas, there appears to be no necessity for the change proposed, nor does there appear to be any responsible sponsor therefore, and

Whereas, the record of court terms in said circuit will show that an average of less than twenty weeks per year have been spent in the holdings of court in said circuit and that the incumbent while in good health has been able to hold court by designation in another circuit; and

Whereas, the ill health of the incumbent judge led to the holding of terms by designated judges, through an election a lawyer of good health and fine qualifications has been elected to succeed the incumbent.

Whereas, we bespeak the solicitation of the opinion of the incumbent judge and of the judge-elect on the necessities before hasty action is had in a matter of importance to taxpayers, litigants and lawyers, to say but little of the security of all of the people of the circuit.

Therefore, we, all of the lawyers of the county of Iron in said circuit, do hereby register our protest, objection and amazement to this unnecessary and unsound move, which may be, and probably is, purely political in its nature.

by independent unions not linked to the federation. These agreements gave a noticeable lift to lagging hopes of an early end to the strike.

The agreements called for wage increases of $4 a week by the New York Telephone company and $3 to $4 by the Bell Telephone company of Pennsylvania. The NFWA is demanding $6 a week (15 cents an hour) for all its workers.

An NFWA official said before the settlements were announced that he would guess 320,000 persons were on strike.

Committee Favors
Gasoline Levy Of
5 Cents A Gallon
Lansing, April 30 (P)—For the second time the committee of roads and bridges today reported favorably to the House of Representatives a proposed two-cent increase in the state gasoline tax which would raise the levy from three to five cents a gallon.

The measure, called back for a public hearing several weeks ago when first reported out, was virtually unchanged, according to Chairman A. P. Decker, Decker-ville Republican.

At the hearing county interests strongly favored the measure, while oil producers and distributors attacked it as inflationary and warned the consumer would bear the tax.

The bill would allocate 41 per cent of the additional two cents to the State Highway Department, 41 per cent to county road commissions and 18 per cent to municipalities.

HEADS PARDONS BUREAU
Lansing, April 30 (P)—Gus Harrison, Lansing, today was appointed deputy in charge of supervision of the Bureau of Pardons and Paroles. A Michigan State college graduate, Harrison has been with the bureau six years as administrative assistant.

SON OF DUCE TO TAKE JOB IN ARGENTINA

Beard Shaved Off

Vittorio said: "I am broke and have to earn a living." He explained that he had been offered a job as an office administrator in a wholesale butcher business which will pay him 1,500 pesos ($375) a month. He said he hoped eventually to get into the motion picture industry.

He said he had a beard when he arrived in order to hide his identity but shaved it off recently. Since his arrival he has attended the theater and boxing matches.

Paulucci Cornejo said he had planned to surrender Vittorio to the police so that the young Italian can be arrested as an illegal immigrant as the first step in bringing the matter before the court.

The attorney added that the Argentine supreme court ruled in 1946 that a peaceful immigrant who already is an inhabitant of Argentina cannot be deported if the immigration quota of his homeland is not filled.

The deportation of young Mussolini is unlikely, Paulucci Cornejo continued, since the government would have to prove that he was undesirable in the sense that his presence constitutes a danger to national security. "And that would be hard to prove," the attorney added.

Tornado Deaths 9 In Arkansas, 13 In Missouri

Rockwall, destroyed a new house at the edge of Rockwall. R. A. Gaines, editor of the Rockwall Success, said several other buildings in the river bottoms were damaged. No other injuries were reported. A hail storm pelted Rockwall before the tornado appeared.

Clower, Mabank and Odon were struck by small twisters last night. The nearby towns of Bonham and Grand Saline were drenched by torrential rains.

Mabank suffered the worst property damage. The storm passed through the center of town, destroying one business building, one residence and three barns. Other buildings were damaged.

Six members of one family were injured at Clower, near Grand Saline.

Unseasonably hot weather gripped the entire state. Dallas' high reading of 93 degrees was the hottest April 30 on the weather bureau's records.

Communist Party Secretary Indicted In Contempt Charge

Washington, April 30 (P)—Eugene Dennis, secretary of the Communist party in the United States, was indicted by a federal grand jury today on a charge of contempt of Congress and a warrant for his arrest was ordered by the district attorney.

The maximum penalty on conviction is a $1,000 fine and one year in jail.

Also indicted on a similar count was Leon Josephson, New York attorney, who has been accused by the House committee on un-American activities of manipulating false passports for Communist leaders.

Today's indictment accuse both Dennis and Josephson of failing to obey subpoenas to appear and testify before the committee, which is investigating Communist activities in this country.

Preparations Made By Secretary Krug To Dismiss 15,000

Washington, April 30 (P)—The interior department began wide scale furloughing of employees today, preparatory to dismissal of perhaps 10,000 to 15,000 by July 1 if the House-approved 45 per cent slash in the department's new budget finally becomes law.

Secretary Krug, who issued the preparatory reduction orders, recently said the House appropriation cuts would force release of that many employees from his staff said to number 50,000, of whom 46,000 are employed outside Washington.

The Senate, however, has yet to consider the appropriations measure and until there is final agreement by Congress and President Truman signs the bill into law the department cannot determine to what extent economies must be made.

Showdown Put Off On Rent Controls After Hot Debate

Washington, April 30 (P)—The House voted 127 to 48 today to kill virtually all government controls over building materials and construction, and members shouted stormy protest against a pending proposal to extend modified rent controls from June 30 to Dec. 31.

With some members demanding a blanket 10 per cent rent boost while others called for an immediate end of all controls, the house put off a showdown on the politically potent rent issue until tomorrow.

Rep. McCormack (D-Mass.) capped the day's fiery debate with the announcement that he will attempt to send the entire housing-rent bill back to the House banking committee for rewriting.

McCormack told the House that abolishing controls on building materials runs counter to appeals from all veterans organizations.

Across the capital, Senator Wagner (D-N.Y.) and Taylor (D-Iowa) blasted the pending Senate rent control extension bill and advocated carrying on the present program unchanged at least through June 30, 1948.

The Senate bill would end controls next March 1 and vest a big measure of authority in local committees for making rent increases.

Capital Punishment Proposal Is Opposed In House Arguments

Lansing, April 30 (P)—The Senate defeated the Quinlan bill today to permit paroles for first-degree murderers while the House scheduled further debate on a bill to restore the first degree murder death penalty.

The capital punishment bill came up for debate close to the usual adjournment time and after half an hour of inconclusive discussion, the adjournment motion automatically chopped it off to be continued tomorrow.

"This proposal was turned down by the voters in 1931," said Rep. Henry T. Gage, Grosse Pointe Republican, "and we should turn it down now."

He said that the history of capital punishment revealed it had no effect in preventing crime.

Rep. E. W. Metcalfe, Detroit Republican, declared the death penalty was a proposal to "take vengeance out of the hands of the creator."

Prison Offers 200 Clerks To Help On State Bonus Task

Lansing, April 30 (P)—William H. Burke, assistant corrections director, today offered the services of 100 to 200 prison inmate clerks and space in Southern Michigan prison gymnasium to assist the adjutant general's department in processing veterans' bonus payments.

Earlier, Brig. Gen. Leroy Pearson, state adjutant general, said most veterans would have to wait six months for their state bonus because of the limited staff and space available at Lansing.

Burke recalled that a similar assistant program by inmates speeded processing of gasoline rationing forms early in the war.

TRIESTE PARADE BOMBED

Trieste, Thursday, May 1 (P)—Twenty-five pro-Yugoslav demonstrators were injured, four seriously, last night when two bombs were hurled into the midst of a parade in a predominantly Italian section of this city. Police said between 5,000 and 10,000 were participating in the parade.
